Phone Strike Ties Up Northern Part of County

SIX GIRLS IN SANTA ANA EXCHANGE LEAVE

Operators Being Replaced Here and Service Is Not Interrupted

ANAHEIM, FULLERTON, PLACENTIA TIED UP

Los Angeles Agitators Tell Story of Negroes Being Employed There

TELEPHONES in the north half of the county were tied up completely this morning by a walkout of employees. Not an exchange in the section was able to operate. Every lineman and operator in the exchanges at Anaheim, Fullerton and Placentia quit their posts. Only the chief operator in each exchange was on duty.

The linemen and six operators walked out at the Santa Ana exchange this morning. None of the other exchanges in the south half of the county were interrupted in their service by employees quitting. Western Union operators in this city are at their keys and no suspension of business is anticipated here.

The county today felt its first direct effect of the general strike of telephone operators and linemen in California. Since the declaration of the big strike local employees of the telephone company had been at their posts and for a time there was doubt as to whether the "fiver" would spread to this city. Union representatives of Los Angeles have been active in the county for the past two days endeavoring to have local operators affiliate with the Los Angeles union.

Say Negroes Employed

As part of their propaganda, it is alleged that they informed telephone girls that in the Los Angeles office negro women were being employed and given positions at the switch board alongside of white girls.

Telephone officials deny that negro women are being given positions in Los Angeles, and brand the statements of the agitators as false.

The exchanges at Garden Grove, Tustin, Orange, Newport and Huntington Beach are operating with full forces.

E. S. Morrow, district manager, is replacing the striking operators with county women who have had experience at the switch board. Replacements were made quickly in the Santa Ana office.

Operators were put to work in the northern Orange county exchanges as fast as they could be secured.

The strikers are demanding increased pay and recognition of the union. Particular effort is being made in districts contiguous to Los Angeles to induce workers to quit, in order to make the Los Angeles strike more effective.

After Fair Play.

According to a statement by a striking lineman this afternoon, the members of his craft are simply seeking fair play and fighting for a wage that was granted them by the Macey board some ten months ago.

The Macey board agreed to allow $6.40 per day and about the time of its decision the telephone companies passed to the control of the government. Postmaster Burleson refused to recognize the award.

The union has no grievance from the standpoint of denial of collective bargaining. That has been recognized on the coast for several years.

The girls are demanding a wage scale that will be just compensation for their time and experience. The minimum wage asked for is $2 per day for the first two years and $4 per

Brevity Is Last Word For Skirts

They're Here From Paris If You Have the Nerve To Wear 'Em

NEW YORK, June 18.—Ladies get your shears and prepare to amputate a foot or so off the bottom of your long skirts if you are to be in style. The short skirt is just the thing. It first made its appearance in Paris where dry goods is scarce. The Parisian women took to it and the American doughboys who were over there gave it the once over and they approved it immediately.

Then it came to America. It didn't take on at once. A lot of women did not have daring enough to wear it. Some who had the nerve hadn't been treated well by nature, hence they didn't adopt it. Miss Elsie Bambrick, New York actress, was one of the first to wear it in public and soon other eastern girls followed suit, until now it is the latest thing in skirts. So get busy with the shears.

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, June 18.—Thirty-one cars oranges and one car lemons sold. Averages $2.55 to $7.33. Highest price President $7.60. Lemon market unchanged. Averages $5.06 to $6.14. Weather unsettled; 8 a. m., temperature 66.

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Geo. Henderson, negro politician, today was found guilty by a jury in the Superior court of offering Mayor Woodman a $25,000 bribe. Mayor Woodman recently was acquitted of a charge of accepting the bribe.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, has resigned as president, but will continue as chairman of the board, it was announced today. H. P. Thayer, has been made president of the company.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A resolution protesting against any proposal to give Great Britain a mandate over Mexico was introduced in the house today by Representative Fitzgerald of Massachusetts. He urged congress to express "the feeling that the United States is amply able to take care of any situation under the Monroe doctrine that may arise in Mexico."

CRACK NAVY BAND WILL BE HERE 2 DAYS

Concerts Afternoons of June 26-27 at Birch Park, Evenings at Clune's

SAILORMEN TO PLAY AT HARBOR JOYFEST

Greatest Naval Recruiting Party Will Be In Orange County Five Days

THE crack band of the United States navy, comprising forty-five pieces, will be in Orange county for five days, from Tuesday, June 24, to Saturday, June 28, inclusive, playing at Anaheim Tuesday, Orange Wednesday, Santa Ana, Thursday and Friday, and on Saturday afternoon and evening at the Orange County harbor celebration at Newport Beach, which has been postponed a week, from June 21 to June 28.

This announcement was made in Santa Ana today by F. R. Spaulding, chief yeoman of the navy, who arrived to complete arrangements for the stay here of the navy's most elaborate recruiting party, which in Orange county will be under the direction of W. P. Hughes, chief carpenter's mate, in charge of the navy recruiting office here.

Orange county may be considered lucky to get this great band for five days, and especially will it be appropriate that this organization, representing the United States navy, will take part in the county celebration at Newport of the voters' approval of the harbor bonds, which will assure another port on the Pacific coast open to naval vessels.

Big Recruiting Campaign

During those five days, there will be a great recruiting campaign for the navy here. The party travels in a special railway coach, and is just completing its tour of the Pacific coast. Next Saturday the band will be at Redlands, Sunday at Urbana park, Tuesday at Riverside and then to Orange county for five days. From here the band will go to Long Beach and then on eastward on its return trip to Washington.

Aside from the big, forty-five piece sailor band, known as the favorite band of the navy, the party includes a squad of sailor singers, acrobats, and entertainers. An official navy picture showing ships of the navy in action, and views of the various schools open to enlisted men, arranged by Chief Yeoman Howard N. Smith, accompanies the band and is shown in the larger theatres, accompanied by a short lecture on the navy by Mr. Smith. A medical man accompanies the band and will be on hand to make physical examinations and to receive men who wish to enlist in the navy.

Schedule in County

Following is the band's Orange county schedule:

Tuesday, June 24.—Anaheim; afternoon concert, high school; evening, Fairland theatre.

Wednesday, June 25.—Orange; afternoon concert at the plaza; evening entertainment not yet arranged.

Thursday, June 26.—Santa Ana; afternoon concert, Birch park; evening, Clune's theatre.

Friday, June 27.—Santa Ana; afternoon, Birch park; evening, Clune's theatre; following the Clune's entertainment the band will go to Tustin and will play at a big community dance there.

Saturday, June 28.—Newport Beach, Orange county harbor bond celebration, afternoon and evening.

Jesse L. Elliott and Jack Wallace are a committee which is arranging to get automobiles to take the bandmen to and from Newport Beach on the 28th.

HUN CABINET AFRAID TO NOT SIGN TREATY

Inclination Against Move But Fate of Germany Is Considered

COMMENT NOT MADE ON REPLY OF ALLIES

Government Troops at Weimar to Guard Against Any Surprise Revolt

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WEIMAR, June 18.—The German cabinet discussed the allies' reply to the counter proposals in a conference lasting for several hours. At the conclusion of the session the official spokesman made the following statement to the United Press:

"The inclination certainly is all against signing the treaty. Absolutely the only deterrent to such a course is consideration of whether the fate of Germany would be worse through refusing to sign than through signing."

Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau arrived here from Versailles early today. He refused to make any comment on the Allies' reply to the German counter proposals.

Germany fears the consequences of rejecting the revised peace treaty. This attitude was apparent in government circles here today.

Opposition Not Abated

Opposition to the pact has not abated one whit, following receipt of official summation of the revised terms from Versailles by telephone and telegraph. But the prospect of Allied invasion, an economic blockade, Bolshevism and food shortage was obviously the dominating influence here.

Astonishment and anger at what is regarded as utter disregard of the German counter proposals were voiced on all sides. No government official could be found who looked upon the concessions as sufficient. The tendency now is to criticize America for the situation Germany now finds herself in, rather than Great Britain or France.

The general sentiment was expressed, however, that signing by the present government is impossible. One authority declared it was doubtful even if Foreign Minister Brockdorff-Rantzau will return to Versailles, especially in view of the demonstration by French civilians there as the German delegation was about to entrain for Weimar.

Stoning of Delegates

The stoning of the delegates, with the consequent injury to Frau Dornbusch and Herr Myers, is regarded as a breach of all diplomatic amities. It was suggested that if Germany's decision is adverse, Secretary von Haniel in Versailles would be merely instructed to report this fact.

But if the present government cannot see its way clear to sign there appears to be no question that an "ersatz" (substitute government) will be immediately organized, with the independent socialists dominating. Such a government would unquestionably accept the terms, with the support of the bulk of the German commoners.

Poles and Czechoslovak Troops Will Help Blockade

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, June 18.—The Poles and Czechoslovaks will join the Allies in throwing an iron ring around Germany, in case she chooses war rather than peace, according to authoritative information obtained today.

Marshal Foch's plans in the event that the Germans refuse to sign the treaty, provide for rapid contraction of this ring, overrunning Germany from three sides. The Poles would advance from the east, the Czechoslovaks from the south, and nearly a

Builds Odd Parasol Plane Would Soar Over Pacific Fails To Make Craft Fly

San Francisco Plumber Says Machine Will Take the Air When Fixed

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Among the freak flying machines that have made their appearance during the last few months, one built by Harry Van Wie, a plumber of this city, is perhaps the oddest in appearance. He calls it a parasol plane.

At first glance it looks like an ordinary wrecked airplane shaded by a big Japanese parasol, but it really isn't that kind of a contrivance.

Van Wie built the machine to fly over the Pacific ocean. It has a parachute-like top 18 feet in diameter. The main sections are 31 feet long and four feet across and below them are the side controls.

There is a deck five feet long and ten feet wide for passengers and the craft is built of aluminum and oiled silk.

Barring the fact that the "ship" wouldn't fly when tried out a few days ago, it looks staunch and "airworthy." The builder declares it will fly when a few minor alterations are made.

STREET CAR SERVICES RESUMES IN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Man., June 18.—For the first time since May 15, limited street car service was started in Winnipeg today.

Several cars, carrying their regular crews, and accompanied by three special police, appeared on the streets. No attempt so far has been made to interfere with their operation. Street car company officials announced they are generally increasing the service.

BELGIAN PEOPLE GET MESSAGE OF WILSON

BRUSSELS, June 18.—President Wilson today delivered the following message to the Belgian people.

"I am happy at the opportunity to visit a nation which defended the barriers of civilization under the most crushing difficulties. I strongly desire to meet King Albert, Cardinal Mercier, Burgomaster Max and General Leman, and to see the damage to the country whose only fault is absolute loyalty to its conception of national honor and fidelity to its pledges."

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE DEGREES CONFERRED

OAKLAND, June 18.—Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco, today conferred degrees upon graduates of St. Mary's College in the Alumni gymnasium. Candidates receiving degrees are Thomas G. Allison, Scotland; Rudolph Caffero, Sacramento; Frank L. Dodd, Berkeley; James L. Hagerty, Oakland; Manuel Silva, Sacramento; Harold Vasche, Oakland, and Samuel Helton, Berkeley.

ACTION FOR BLOCKADE IS NOT TAKEN

FEELING IS AROUSED BY MOVE OF ENGLAND

Supreme Economic Council Is Said to Have Not Been Consulted

By LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ADINKERKE, Belgium, June 18.—President Wilson has ordered all American vessels unloading in German ports to disregard British orders to cease discharging their cargoes, it was learned today.

American naval vessels, it was said, were also ordered to disregard a British order for re-establishment of the blockade of Germany.

The president's action was said to have been taken prior to his departure from Paris last night for Brussels. News of the British move was said to have aroused feeling, since the supreme economic council—which had charge of blockade operations—is said not to have been consulted.

Through modification of the German blockade the Allies have been sending food into Germany for some time. Much of this food was shipped from the United States in American ships.

The above dispatch is the first intimation received in this country that Great Britain had undertaken to re-establish a complete blockade. It was understood that re-establishment of the blockade, in the event Germany refused to sign the peace treaty would be directed by the supreme economic council, in which the principal associated powers are represented.

4 KILLED, 14 WOUNDED RESULT JUAREZ FIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 18.—American casualties in the skirmishing around Juarez were two civilians and two soldiers killed, two soldiers severely wounded and eight soldiers and four civilians slightly wounded, General Cabell advised the war department today.

The civilian casualties were the result of shots fired into El Paso by the Villistas.

THREE RESOLUTIONS FOR SEPARATE PEACE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Separate peace with Germany is provided for in at least three resolutions being prepared by senators for introduction at "the proper time."

Refusal of Germany to sign the allied treaty, or her signing of it, or the defeat of the Knox resolution in the Senate are among events which senators said are likely to be the signals for introduction of the separate peace resolutions.

STRIKE IS POSTPONED.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 18.—The 30,000 Canadian Railway shompen will not strike today as scheduled. The secretary of the shompen's organization is at Atlantic City conferring with American labor leaders. The walkout was postponed pending outcome of this conference.

million French, British, Belgians and Americans from the west, while on the north the British fleet would bottle up Germany's ports and complete her economic helplessness.

The greatest pressure would, of course, be exerted by the Allied armies now stretched along the German frontier, from Holland to Switzerland. Opposed to the combined forces of the Allies, the Germans could muster no more than half a million men, in the opinion of French military authorities. More than half of these are now concentrated against the Poles. Other regiments are distributed throughout Germany at points where political disturbances are likely. A maneuvering army of scarcely 100,000 men, under General Lutwitz, is now concentrated in central Germany. It is this force which would have to bear the brunt of meeting an Allied advance from the west.

Foch's program, however, provides for invasion on the basis of Germany's maximum military effort.

While occupation of Berlin would be one object—should it be necessary for the Allies to advance that far before the Germans capitulate—the Allied military authorities admit that seizure of the capital would be important only through its moral effect. The main objectives of the Allies, it is learned from reliable sources, are:

First—Occupation of those productive interests most vital to Germany's existence.

Second—Complete severance of the country from west to east.

Third—Utter crushing of Germany from all four sides, as described above.

Trial of Kaiser Foremost Question Before French

By FRED S. FERGUSON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, June 18.—Second only to the question as to whether the Germans will sign the peace treaty in the minds of French people today was the subject of bringing Wilhelm Hohenzollern to trial.

Even should the former kaiser evade the ordeal of facing an international tribunal, the Germans—if they accept the revised terms—must formally acknowledge his liability to answer for the high crime against civilization.

Renewal of the likelihood of actual prosecution of Wilhelm was indicated by the statement in the Allies' reply to the German counter proposals that they are prepared to submit a final list of "those who must be handed over to justice within one month after the signing of peace."

While it is learned from authoritative sources that the Americans so far have not submitted the names of any persons responsible for the violations of the laws or practices of war, the European allies are understood to have long lists in the making.

The shorter the ice crop is in the winter, the longer the bill is in the summer.

day after that period.

There has been no disturbance and none is expected, for the men are all local residents and will respect the rights of the company. They, however, will use their influence in inducing operators throughout the county to join in the strike.

Telephone Strike May Be Ended Within a Few Days

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—There is a possibility that the California telephone strike will be settled at a conference to be held tomorrow in San Francisco between representatives of the union and D. P. Fullerton of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, F. R. Spencer, general chairman of the local strike committee declared today.

He said the conference would be held as a result of the company's recognition of the right of collective bargaining. Spencer declared the men would stand firm on their demands of $6.40 per day for electrical workers and $1 per day for girl operators.

Reports from outside of Los Angeles showed the strike was spreading today in Southern California. Anaheim, Fullerton, Placentia and a few smaller exchanges in that district were entirely tied up. The whole force also went out at Redondo. The girl operators at Redlands walked out this morning, the linemen having quit there yesterday.

In the Imperial valley according to Manager C. F. Mason of the telephone company, the situation is "better," but he added that there was considerable trouble in Calexico although the remainder of the valley was not so seriously affected.

In Los Angeles Mason said the situation was "better than yesterday." He added that he would not be surprised if the strike ended in a few days.

Strike headquarters declared that the outlook was highly encouraging and expressed particular gratification over reports of the strike spreading to smaller towns.

Many Central California Phone Lines Paralyzed

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—With the union claiming 85 per cent of the strike, telephone wire workers on strike, telephone service in San Francisco and Central California is paralyzed today.

SACRAMENTO, June 18.—More than 300 men in the Sacramento valley joined the state-wide telephone workers' strike at 8 a. m. today, leaving the wire chiefs to handle the mechanical departments of the exchanges. A large percentage of the girl operators expected to walk out tonight.

Electrical workers throughout most of Nevada, including Reno, also struck today, union headquarters declared. The towns included in today's walkout are Sacramento, Woodlands, Willows,

RECRUITING FLYERS WILL SOON BE HERE

Probably the last of next week a party of recruiting officers from March Field will arrive in Santa Ana for the purpose of enlisting men in the United States air service. At present the party is at Blythe, from which place it will fly to Banning. Santa Ana and Long Beach are to be visited next.

Lieutenant Norby is in charge of the recruiting. Pilot Oscar Holte, Pilot John G. Montego are the other two. Sergeant William Ingram will join the party at Banning.

It is the plan of the recruiting officers to get as many men as possible in the district to enlist in the air service and it is believed the visit to the towns in this county, Riverside and Los Angeles counties will bring satisfactory results.

At present there are about 120 men in the service at March Field. This does not include the medical corps and the quartermaster's corps. The total in the post at present is about 150.

Oroville, Red Bluff, Reading, Chico, Orland, Corning, Auburn, Grass Valley and Truckee.

The girl operators striking at Truckee isolated the Lake Tahoe region. The Vallejo exchange is reported to have locked its doors.

Telegraphers In Chicago Confident of Settlement

CHICAGO, June 18.—Striking telegraphers here today expressed utmost confidence in the outcome of the conference between Deputy International Vice-president Percy Thomas and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, regarding an adjustment. Officials said nationwide reports continued encouraging.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss Flo Kelly, 478 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

There are two tastes in tea: the tea-taste and the tannin-taste. When you make your tea, the tea-taste develops first; the tannin after it.

Common tea, made from the older leaves of the tea-plant, has a low-grade of tea-taste, and even that is quickly smothered by the tannin.

Fine tea, made from young tender leaves, has an abundance of rich real tea-taste, which develops in the cup, before the tannin gets started. Very little tannin in fine tea.

Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Mary E. Clemens and Mrs. Frank Ulrich were Friday-evening visitors of Mrs. George W. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Moore and family attended the senior high school play in Orange Monday evening of this week and were accompanied by Mrs. Carl Farrar of Huntington Beach. Norval Moore, Ray Moore's brother, is a member of the class and took part in the play.

Almost everyone in this community attended the high school baccalaureate service Sunday afternoon at Huntington Beach, general interest being felt here as seven of the seventeen graduates are of this community. These are Misses Ethel Graham, Eunice Stockton, Ethel Gothard, Juanita Isenor, Hattie Schouley, Leonard Cady, Loyal Hughes. An added attraction of the service for local people was due to the fact that Rev. D. D. Dundas of Arlington, a favorite former pastor of the Wintersburg church, gave the address. His subject was, "Peace, Happiness and Success."

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Crane, who with their two daughters spent the past week at the home of his brother, Geo. B. Crane, left Sunday for Santa Anita to take possession of a bungalow which they have rented for the period of their stay here. The family came from Rockyford, Colo., and are in California on a test trip, which may result in their locating here permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Pyle and Mr. and Mrs. John Kettler motored to Aliso Saturday morning and spent the week-end camping out.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham went Saturday to Pomona where they were over-Sunday guests of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gerhart left here on Thursday for a few days' visit with friends and relatives. They returned Tuesday, having spent the interval at Covina, Azusa and Lamanda Park.

E. Ray Moore, cousin, Mrs. G. M. Robinson and brother-in-law, Otis Taylor, drove to Huntington Beach Sunday afternoon and attended the baccalaureate services of the graduating class of the Huntington Beach high school.

$32,320 LEFT UNDER MATTRESS 8 MONTHS

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—For eight months, a peculiar discovery revealed yesterday, cash and securities totaling $32,320 lay concealed under a mattress in a Turkish bath establishment on South Grand avenue. This fortune had been pressed down into an extremely flat package by some hundreds of patrons since Mrs. C. J. Peterson of Kansas City tucked it away there for safe keeping last October.

It seems that Mrs. Peterson did not regard the office safe as sufficiently secure. When she left the place she forgot where she had stowed her possessions. The place was ransacked in the search, but never a look under the mattress. Recently the house changed hands and the new proprietor, in the work of renovation, came upon the roll.

GAINS 17 POUNDS SAYS MRS. ALMA WHEELER

Life Is Worth Living Since Tanlac Restored Health, She Declares.

"Just think of it, I have actually gained seventeen pounds, and I honestly believe Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world," said Mrs. Alma Wheeler, who resides at 1267 East 50th street, Los Angeles, while discussing the medicine recently.

"After pursuing my husband through a serious illness about a year ago," continued Mrs. Wheeler, "my strength all seemed to leave me, my nerves gave way, and I broke almost completely down. I was so run-down, weak and nervous that it would almost prostrate me to do my housework. My nerves were so shattered that I couldn't stand the noise of the children at play. I could hardly sleep and my stomach was so out of order that everything I would eat disagreed with me. I lost weight all the time, and finally got so weak and nervous that I had to stop trying to drive our car."

"Finally a lady friend of mine advised me to try Tanlac, and never until I began taking that medicine was I able to find anything to help me. When I began taking it I was scarcely ninety-eight pounds, but now I tip the scales at one hundred and fifteen pounds. I now sleep well, eat hearty, and my nerves are so good that no kind of noise disturbs me. I had gotten despondent and discouraged, but now life is worth living, for I am enjoying good health again. Tanlac has certainly been a wonderful thing for me and several of my neighbors are now taking it on my recommendation."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Rigdon's Pharmacy, in Orange by Dittmer's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by A. J. Robinson, in Tustin by Tustin Drug Co., in Brea by Brea Pharmacy, in Buena Park by Regal Drug Co., in Garden Grove by O. H. Anderson and in Laguna by the Laguna Beach Pharmacy.—Adv.

ALUMNI BANQUET IS TO BE HELD MONDAY

Judging by cards received by the officers of the Santa Ana High School Alumni Association, there will be over 200 graduates of the school present at the annual banquet and meeting of the alumni next Monday evening, June 23, at 7 o'clock. The banquet is to be served at the high school. The event is to take the form of a welcome home for alumni who were in war service.

"Cards notifying alumni that the banquet is to be held were sent to all alumni whose addresses were available," said M. O. Robbins, president of the association. "There are doubtless many who did not receive cards who will attend. In order to determine how many plates to order for the banquet the committee ought to know by Friday night of this week how many are to attend. Those who have not already sent their return cards to the secretary, Miss Wilma Andrews, should send them at once or notify her by telephone or letter of intention to be present. Miss Andrews' telephone number is 1175 and her post office box number is 84."

"THE MELTING POT" TO BE GIVEN BY CLASS

"The Melting Pot" has been chosen by the Seniors of the Santa Ana High School for their class play. It promises to be genuinely worth while and will no doubt receive the hearty support of all those who enjoy the best in literary drama.

The theme is a universal one and the stirring situations call forth a display of the entire gamut of human emotions. In the concluding act of this charming drama one is made to feel with David Quixano the truth of the following lines:

"Ah, Vera, what is the glory of Rome and Jerusalem where all nations and races come to worship and look back, compared with the glory of America, where all nations come to labour and look forward."

No pains are being spared to make this production the crowning event of all previous Senior plays.

MRS. LILY BUSCH WILL SELL FAMOUS GARDENS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 18.—The famous Busch gardens at Pasadena, owned by Mrs. Lily Busch, widow of Adolphus Busch, will be sold. Mrs. Busch has ordered her agents here to dispose of the property and to close the gardens preliminary to the sale.

Wine Vineyards Bring High Prices Despite Prohibition Due Soon

FRESNO, Cal., June 18.—Wine vineyards in this territory are selling at a higher figure than in former years despite the fact that prohibition is in the offing. W. Flanders Setchel explained to the United Press today this seeming paradox.

Unlike vineyards in other parts of California, those of Fresno and environs will not suffer through prohibition. Setchel said. There are two reasons. Raisin grapes can readily be grafted onto the rootstock of the wine grapes, and dry wine grapes which are grown here extensively, can still be produced with a profit and shipped to wet countries. Setchel said he knew of no law that would interfere with this industry, even though it is related intimately with the liquor business.

For those who prefer them we now have comfortable cushioned partition booths at the Dragon lunch room. Our noon-day lunch will please you—varied menu, daintily served.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT WINTERSBURG CHURCH

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER. June 18.—A most interesting Children's Day program was held last Sunday morning at the Wintersburg Methodist church with a good crowd attending.

The church was beautifully decorated, a color scheme of blue and green being used. Ferns, African Daisies and verbenas in profusion carried out the color effect which was greatly admired.

The program was as follows: Song, Choir; Prayer, Rev. C. M. Ross; Announcements; Dialogue, Beginners Class; Song, 2nd and 3rd year Juniors; Recitation, Geo. Cooke; Dialogue, Primary Class; Song, Choir; Dialogue, 3rd year Juniors; Recitation, Viola McMillan; Song, Beginners and Primary Classes; Recitation, Ruth Ross; Recitation, Mrs. H. O. Ensign; Offering; Song, Choir; Benediction by the pastor.

ENFORCE ATTENDANCE

According to Dr. George Strayer, of Columbia University, president of the National Educational Association, the American school system needs a lot of reforming. System? We should have used the plural, for Dr. Strayer declares that in the United States there are forty-eight school systems in use, one for each state. Some of the states have good methods and some have not, and the result is that as a whole the United States conducts its schooling in a woefully haphazard fashion. In arguing that unification and betterment of school systems are necessary in order that the education of the masses may be accomplished adequately, Dr. Strayer says that compulsory attendance has not been enforced in a great many places, and that alone is responsible for the fact that such a large proportion of the young men examined in the draft were found to be illiterate, unable to read or write.

Almost any kind of a system will teach a child how to read and write, if he is possessed of normal faculties, if the child is subjected to the system. The best system in the world is worthless if it not applied.

The conclusion we inevitably reach is that the fact that there are forty-eight different systems in the country is not an explanation of the illiteracy that was discovered among the men examined in the draft. Many of those systems are faulty, and without question the very best system obtainable should be adopted by every school in the land. Lack of enforcement of the compulsory attendance laws is at the bottom of the condition.

No doubt every county and every city in the country that has endeavored to enforce attendance at schools has had much the same experiment that we have had here. The difficulty in securing attendance is not among the families where the parents have had schooling. One of the factors in educational progress that is tinted with serene optimism is the inclination of parents who have some education to have their children receive as good or better education than they received. The difficulty lies among the families where the parents have had no schooling. Here is it almost entirely among the Mexicans. While a large proportion of them are willing to send their children to school, nothing but vigilance and persistence keeps many of the pupils there beyond the third or fourth grade.

Efforts to compel the attendance of children whose parents are unwilling that the children go to school is full of discouragements.

Trust officers sometimes feel that they are bumping against stone walls. But the results obtained are worth the effort. They are worth every possible effort. The whole country should put into effect vigorous methods of enforcing attendance of children at schools.

HOUSES FOR TEACHERS

The state of Washington has found one way to keep its teachers in rural districts. A comfortable cottage is built adjacent to each school house, where the teacher can live, rent-free, have his or her family for companionship, and enjoy a real home life, which would be impossible otherwise.

Boarding "round" is a precarious existence. Often boarding in one place is far from pleasant or home-like, and many a good teacher has given up a school solely in need of competent instructors because living conditions were intolerable.

It is going to be more and more of a problem to keep the teachers in rural districts. Cities will offer big pay and more life appealing to persons of education, and it will be necessary for the country school to meet these conditions by offering such comfort for the teacher as will make life in the isolated territory attractive.

In fact, comfortable housing arrangements, free or at reasonable prices, might well be considered in every community as one of the factors tending to induce teachers to come and stay.

WOMEN AND TRACTORS

There is no branch of farming which women are unable or unwilling to undertake. The latest field of agricultural endeavor to be entered by the women is that of running the big farm tractors and farm power plants.

Ever since the Kansas Agricultural College opened its farm motors school it has had women students. This year it is graduating four women, and expects to have twenty or thirty more completing its short summer course preparatory to fall plowing.

Says the professor of farm engineering at the college, "All the women we have had in our classes do good work, the equal or superior of the men enrolled with them. They go at the work in a systematic, energetic way and are not in the least afraid of grease and dirt. In all trouble work the women are especially good at analyzing the difficulty and remedying it."

Most of these women have gone into the work to help solve the labor problem on their husbands' farms. But if the need for extra farm help continues and farming remains as popular among women as the growth of the land army indicates, the "hired woman" in some of the states may come to be a customary helper in the fields as well as in dairy and farm kitchen.

BUILDING BOXES

"Why do we build boxes, call the big ones skyscrapers and the little ones houses and shut ourselves up in them the year round? Does anyone know?" Thus queries one ardent disciple of out-of-doors. Why indeed? Does anybody know?

There are some necessary processes of modern life that can more conveniently be carried on with modern facilities, and these are found only in houses. But is that any reason for nailing ourselves into these confining boxes so closely?

Why not this summer resolve that the box shall await us, not restrain us; that all the cumbering, hampering things that go with the box can remain stored inside it, but that we ourselves will spend every possible minute of time where we long to be, out in the open, along the streams and in the woods?

"We shall have to spend goodness knows how long in the last long box of all. Why anticipate? And one thing is sure, the more time we spend free from our boxes called home and office, the longer we shall delay, in all probability, that final housing."

Antagonizing League

Long Beach Press
The League of Nations covenant, as an integral part of the peace treaty, will be fought determinedly in the United States Senate by a group of senators. Just how strong this group will prove to be and whether or not these antagonistic senators will carry their antagonism to such extreme lengths as to endanger the ratification of the treaty, remains to be demonstrated.

When President Wilson comes home there will begin one of the most spirited and most spectacular parliamentary struggles this country ever will have witnessed. The President will throw himself into the fight with all his masterful ability, enthusiasm and energy. Several powerful figures in the Senate—notably Lodge, Knox, Borah, Johnson and others—will be in the thick of the fight for segregating the League of Nations covenant from the peace treaty. The forensic and parliamentary struggle promises to run for weeks. It would be rash to forecast complete triumph for the treaty in the form of its presentation to the Senate, although friends and supporters of the President and of the treaty hope for this. Public sentiment, meantime, should crystallize to the end that the people may exert influence upon their senators to assume such attitude toward the treaty as the people may desire them to make.

Bonds For Roads

Long Beach Press
A special election is to be held in California, on July 1, let it be remembered, to pass on the proposal to issue $40,000,000 bonds for highway construction in different parts of the state. There are so many good reasons why this bond proposal should be adopted, it bewilders one to undertake to enumerate them.

Good roads, as California well knows, are a good investment. Every mile of permanently improved roadway represents a wise outlay. California would not go back to muddy, rutty, dusty roads again for ten times what it has cost the state to construct its fine systems of good roads.

Improved highways benefit all classes—the urbanite, the ruralite, the laborer, the rancher, the orchardist, the merchant, the manufacturer, the householder—everybody.

With this proposed bond issue of $40,000,000 made available for expenditure in the near future, California can give employment to large numbers of returned soldiers and sailors and to others out of work. Here is another consideration: The greater part of this huge sum will be disbursed right here in California and will stay in this state, to circulate wholesomely and to benefit everybody.

There really is no sound, bona fide argument against this bond proposal. Let's carry it through to success by as nearly unanimous consent as possible.

COULD NOT QUALIFY AS MEMBER OF COUNCIL

ORANGE, June 18.—L. W. Hemphill, appointed at the last meeting of the city council to succeed F. E. Anderson, resigned, last night resigned the place. It developed that he has not been an elector of Orange for a year and he therefore is barred from service on the council.

W. T. Walton, well known rancher, has been appointed.

Wallowing In It

Virtue of Simplicity

The great things of the world—men, or women, or mountains, or ideas—are simple, declares Angelo Patri in the July number of the New Red Cross Magazine.

"They are easy to understand. They are exactly what they say they are. They do not pretend. They 'come clean'."

"The founders of America were simple folk. They landed on a rock that became the cornerstone of a great nation. They gave it a simple name—Plymouth Rock. Their dress was very plain. You would know a Pilgrim Father and Mother if you met them anywhere today. And you would take off your hat to them."

Too many things, too many plans, choke up our lives. You know people who are so busy taking care of their things that they have no time to live. Some folks do not know at the end of the day whether the sky was blue or gray. They did not hear the song-sparrow, although he sang bravely. They did not glimpse the road border of dusty mulleins and skyblue chicory and ox-eye daisies. Too busy. Daily they miss the salt and savor of the earth. They have forgotten the simple, beautiful things."

Worth While Verses

WANDER SONG.

The gray fair loves his book and bell,
The king his golden crown;
The archer his October ale,
That sparkles bright and brown;
But search the green earth far and wide,
There's naught so dear to me
As the little grassy wander-roads
That lead beside the sea.

They gave me wine unto my lips,
And gold within my hands,
And filled my garner high with grain
As pittance of my lands.
But naught I own, nor lands nor gold,
Are half so sweet to me
As my little grassy wander-roads
A-calling by the sea.

I stole myself a gypsy cloak
And wandered o'er the downs,
And found myself a sea-sweet nook
Afar from clustered towns.
For of all the great world's treasure store
The dearest things to me
Are my little grassy wander-roads
That wander by the sea.

—Martha Haskell Clark.

ELWING, LUXTON IN THRIVING TEXAS TOWN

Club House, Bathing Pavilion
Plans Drawn By Former Resident Accepted

Berger A. Elwing and E. H. Luxton of this city are now located at Harlingen, Texas, where they are assisting in the building up of that place. Luxton, who was superintendent of the Griffith planing mills for thirty-two years, recently severed his connection, and went to Harlingen. Elwing formerly was with the mill and later operated as an architect here in partnership with Clarence Tedford. He went to Harlingen some months ago, and was joined a few weeks ago by Luxton.

Concerning an improvement that is to be made at Harlingen under plans drawn by Elwing, the Star of that place has a two-story article, an extract from which follows:

Berger A. Elwing, special architect for F. Z. Bishop, has completed the plans and specifications for the most attractive club house and bathing pavilion known in the science of architecture. It is not a stretch of imagination to say that this club house will eclipse anything in the south for beauty and attractiveness. The grounds upon which this magnificent structure is to rest, is the choice "play grounds" of the city of Harlingen, its present bathing resort on the beautiful Arroyo Colorado, two miles from the city limits. It can be truly said "that it will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

GREAT WHEAT STORAGE PLANT BEING RUSHED

SYDNEY, N. S. W., June 18.—Work on the great wheat storage and shipping plant, which is being pushed with great vigor by the government, is progressing rapidly.

Grain silos and terminal elevators being constructed will complete the bulk handling scheme and will constitute a national work of vital importance to wheat industry.

These storage bins at Glebe Island will have an aggregate capacity of 5,582,000 bushels of wheat, while the working house will have an added capacity of 800,000 bushels. The whole is expected to be ready to handle the 1920-21 harvest.

Senior Class Picnic

Almost all of the senior class of the high school were on hand yesterday evening to enjoy the sumptuous dinner and the dance given them at Orange County Park by the senior class mothers. Fifty of the senior boys and girls left town at the close of school yesterday afternoon and motored to the park. After climbing the hills and enjoying other pastimes in the big park, the students were served the following menu on tables decorated with the class colors, purple and gold: Meat loaf, scalloped potatoes, salad, jelly and rolls, pickles, pie and cake.

The following mothers, teachers and friends went along as hostesses and chaperones: Mrs. Violet and Mrs. Anderson of Garden Grove, Mrs. Leck of Tustin, Mrs. F. L. Andrews, Mrs. J. C. Metzgar, Mrs. J. A. Harvey, Mrs. J. Owens, Mrs. Karl Leorch, Mrs. Charles Swanner, Mrs. Covington, Mrs. A. J. Stanley, Miss Rea, Mrs. S. H. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Phillips.

Committee Meeting

The executive committee of the Spurgeon school met yesterday afternoon to conclude all business for the year. Ten dollars was voted for the playground fund.

Pupils' Recital

The younger pupils of Miss Caroline Houghton were heard last evening in a recital at her home. Miss Houghton is exceptionally capable in her work with children and her monthly recitals are always a pleasure both to the parents and friends invited and the youngsters themselves.

Last evening five girls received their diplomas from the Burrows Kindergarten method, including Coda Mitchell, Catherine Packard, Louise Van Dine, Charlotte Brown, and Lucille Loggins. There has been a certain extent of competition between the pupils regarding the amount of practicing done, for which the winner is given a medal. Edith May Breckenridge carried off the honors this time with the average of four hours a day. That is a long time to spend inside when everyone is having fun out of doors and she deserves much credit for her efforts as does also Miss Charlotte Brown, who ran her a close second with only seven minutes less to her average.

Other students in the recital were: Lucille Newcom, Elizabeth Roehm, Evelyn Metzgar, Margaret Whitted, Eleanor Metzgar, Ruth Breckenridge, Geraldine Graves, Eugenia Gilbert, Virginia Lowell, Marcia Keeler, Marvel Barnes, Paul Petersen, Charles Adams, Edwin Gerhardt and Clark Sackman.

Post Office Picnic

The post office clerks and their families were the guests of rural carriers at a picnic supper given at Orange County Park yesterday evening. About fifty were on hand to enjoy the array of viandts, beef steak, buns and coffee, baked beans, pickles and doughnuts. They swung and they teetered, and they slid down the slide. Sam Vogt was an adept at the latter sport, so it is told. The lanky clerk, according to his friends, was able to gain enough momentum to carry him through the air for some distance after leaving the lower end of the slide, but had difficulty in making a graceful landing.

Woman's Club Meeting

Thursday's meeting of the Woman's Club marked the close of a most successful year of the organization's activities. The meeting occurred at the home of the president, Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, whose lovely home was fairly abloom with fragrant flowers. Most interesting of the day's features was the token of appreciation in the form of a cut glass vase, beautiful in design, presented by Mrs. Finney on behalf of the club to the president who has so efficiently filled that office the past year and whose zeal and untiring efforts have done so much toward making it one of the most instructive and delightful of club years.

Mrs. Millings was in charge of the program and read a paper written by Mrs. Sarah Farhart, and presented at the club in 1912, when the Woman's club was in its infancy.

Mrs. Tiffany read from the Atlantic monthly excerpts from letters sent to the war department from independents in regard to their share of money due them.

Helium, the New Balloon Gas, was the article presented by Mrs. Gale, as portrayed in the Geographical magazine.

A resolution offered by Mrs. Sarah Utley and endorsed by the club, instructed the secretary of the Woman's club to write to all the presidents of the clubs in Orange county, asking them to appoint a vigilance committee to look after the interests of the community property bill that the governor has recently signed and which is soon to become a law, as there is a movement on foot by the interests to subject the law to a referendum, and thus set at naught the hard-earned victory of the women, some ninety thousand strong, who favor the bill.

The club accepted with a rising vote of thanks, the invitation of Mrs. Utley to hold the annual outing at her cottage at Newport Beach, Tuesday, June 24. Each member is to come equipped with all the necessary eating apparatus.

The president served a most delicious ice course and was ably assisted with the serving by Mesdames Stanley, Finney and McKillop.

Sixth Section Postpones Meeting

The regular meeting of the Sixth Economic Section of the Ebbl has been postponed. The date of the meeting will be announced later.

Economics Picnic

The Third Section of the Household Economics will hold their annual picnic at Orange County park, Friday, June 20, afternoon and evening. Each person is asked to take their own knife, fork, spoon, cup and plate. Transportation can be arranged by phoning Mrs. E. H. Prince, who is chairman of the committee. Those who are unable to go are also asked to phone Mrs. Prince.

Surprise Friends

Friends of Miss Lillian Barnard are receiving announcements of her marriage to Edmund Allen Pinerio, last Saturday, June 14, in St. Louis.

Mrs. Pinerio is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barnard of 601 E. Sixth street. She had been the stenographer for Joe Burke for some time and recently went back east to visit with relatives and friends. At that time she intended renewing her work with Mr. Burke, but as her husband is employed in St. Louis they will not return until January when they will make a visit here with relatives and friends who will be glad to greet her personally and wish her all the good luck and joy her charming nature deserves.

For Miss McGee

Miss Hazel Shields was hostess last evening with an informal dance in honor of Miss Marjorie McGee who leaves the first of July for New York to become the bride of Will Warren.

Both Miss McGee and Mr. Warren graduated from the local high school where they were popular members of most of the activities, and Miss McGee has been teaching in the schools here for several years. Both have a host of friends who will be sorry to lose them from their circle as well as to miss attending the wedding which will be of unusual interest.

Mr. Warren has been holding a government position in connection with the ship yards since his discharge from the army.

Miss Ruby Cameron assisted Miss Shields in entertaining. The attractive back yard of the Shields home was lighted with Japanese lanterns and light refreshments were served to the following close friends of Miss McGee: Misses Ella McLean, Edwina Collins, Ruth Hardy, Hattie Powers, Irene Craemer, Fanny Smart, Sylvia and Gladys Shields, Ruby Cameron, Messrs. L. McFadden, Stewart Smith, Jesse Hardy, Dr. Du Boise, Claude Sleeper, Edward Squires, Howard Hall, and Carson Smart.

D. A. R. Luncheon

The D. A. R. luncheon at the Alexandria hotel, Los Angeles, given yesterday in honor of the state regent, Mrs. C. B. Cottle, was well attended by several local members, including the outgoing regent, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, Mrs. W. E. Otis, present regent, and Mesdames C. D. Blake, C. F. Smith, J. M. Bartholomew and Miss Katherine Edwards.

Meeting Called

The Emma Samson Chapter, U. D. C., will meet Saturday, June 21, at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. J. B. Lockett, Greenville. All southern people are invited.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be in the G. A. R. hall tomorrow at 2 o'clock.

Economics Section to Meet

The Sixth Economics Section of the Ebbl will meet Friday at the usual time with Mrs. Charles Heil, 919 Minter. The ladies are requested to bring their own scissors and thimbles as there will be sewing to do.

There are more Zaiser brothers coming to Orange county. There are already two of them here. A. F., assistant cashier of the First National bank, and Dr. H. E., superintendent of the county hospital, Fred H. Zaiser, wholesale merchant of Burlington, Ia., is now on a brief visit here, and Rev. A. J. Zaiser of Ft. Madison, Ia., is on his way here for a visit. Dr. Albert Zaiser of Burlington, Ia., may be here by Christmas to make his home. He and the other two brothers, F. H. and Rev. A. J., are gradually arranging their business affairs so that they, too, can move here within the next year or two.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kneen drove to the city this morning to meet their son, William Kneen, who has just returned from overseas duty. He was in the Rainbow division of the 117th engineers, Co. E.

Miss Edna Masters has purchased the Chandler rooming house from Mrs. C. W. White and will take possession Monday. Mrs. White will remain in charge until the end of the school year, as Miss Masters has charge of the cafeteria at the intermediate school. Mr. and Mrs. White will move to Anaheim, where Mr. White will engage in business with the Falkenstein company.

Do you live east of Main street? Then you can't sprinkle your lawn tomorrow under provisions of an ordinance just passed by the city council. Your sprinkling must be limited to Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays during the dry months of July, August and September. If you live west of Main street, you will be permitted to sprinkle your lawn and garden only on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. On Sundays anybody who stays home may water lawns and gardens.

Among state picnics to be held soon at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, are the following: Idaho, June 28; Georgia, June 28.

George Post, 217 W. 4th St., has bought out the stock of the Ludwig leaving shortly for the East. He will make the trip by automobile.

The Alegria baseball team of Los Angeles will play the Tustin team at the Tustin grounds next Sunday. Whittier was scheduled for the game, but the team has disbanded. The team that will be here Sunday is said to be a high-class organization of amateurs.

TRIBUTES PAID TO FOUR WHO LOST LIVES

Tributes of deep appreciation were spoken last night at the First Presbyterian church for four members of that church who gave their lives in war service. To relatives of those four patriots, bronze victory medals, inscribed by the church, were presented by Rev. Thomas E. Stevenson, pastor of the church.

The ceremonies were a part of an evening's program arranged in honor of the men and women of the church who were in war service. Following the excellent banquet of the Men's Brotherhood, at which were many returned soldiers and sailors, in the auditorium of the church was an assemblage of people of the city. A stirring address picturing things he saw while in France was given by Rev. Robert Freeman of Pasadena, recently called to the pastorate of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church of New York City.

Rev. Stevenson in opening the service said that about 100 had gone from the First Presbyterian church into service, and four have given their lives. They are Miss Cara Keech, a Red Cross dietitian, who died in London; Lieut. Egbert McKean, instructor in aviation, who died in an airplane accident; Ensign Walter Stafford, who died in a hospital at Mare Island; Corporal Ernest Kellogg, killed in the stand of the Lost Battalion in the Argonne Forest. Tributes were paid to each of these respectively by Miss Elizabeth Wyant, J. A. Cranston, Lieut. C. D. Swanner and Rev. T. E. Stevenson.

After these impressive tributes were paid, the victory emblems of honor and appreciation were presented by Rev. Stevenson in behalf of the Men's Brotherhood.

Dr. Freeman expressed the feeling of every person present, when following the presentation of the emblems, church should be turned off and the sacred moment nothing could be quite so fitting as that the lights of the church should be turned off and the friends and relatives of the four whose lives have been sacrificed should sit in the last glow of God's day and muse upon the good that these men had done, upon the inspiration that their lives and sacrifices have been.

In his address, Dr. Freeman covered vividly and graphically and with a wealth of humor, many of his experiences while in France as head of the Y. M. C. A. work there. He detailed instances of the quick reaction there was among American soldiers from death and disaster. The war was fought in darkness. Whole cities were kept in darkness. Ships sailed in darkness. Movement of troops and supplies was in darkness. In the darkness were great flashes of light. Among these were the better understanding of other peoples than came to the people of every land fighting with the allies. Everywhere there was a breaking down of national prejudices and the strengthening of the feeling of brotherhood.

Rev. Freeman paid a high tribute to the ministry of women during the war. Whenever they went they made better men out of the soldiers with whom they came in contact.

For the Y. M. C. A., he declared that its work was extensive and was carried out in a spirit of sacrifice and service. The record shows that of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries in France, eleven were killed, three died of wounds, seventy-one died of accidents and diseases, 117 were wounded in action, twenty-two were injured in accidents, and two are missing.

YOUNG - ELLIOTT PORT MONEY MAY CASE TO JURY BE ON HAND BY LATE TODAY EARLY AUGUST

Malice, Not Self-Defense, Actuated Shooting, Declare Plaintiff's Lawyers

Not fear of bodily injury alone, but malice and hate as well, actuated Benjamin Elliott in the fatal shooting of Eugene Young at La Habra on the evening of April 10, 1918, attorneys Joseph Scott and W. J. Ford declared today in arguments to the jury which heard the evidence in the $70,000 damage action of Mrs. Ella F. Young, the widow, and her two children against Elliott, now in San Quentin prison.

Elliott fired the fatal shot in defense of his rights of habitation, and the shooting was justified under the law, Attorney Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana, for the defense, declared in addressing the jury.

The rebuttal by Attorney Scott was completed at 2:20 this afternoon, thereafter the court delivered the instructions, and the case went to the jury after 3 o'clock.

"It is not sympathy Mrs. Young is asking of you, but justice," Attorney Scott declared in his impassioned appeal wherein he said Elliott was not a reasonable man, that Elliott was mentally defective, and that the fatal shot was fired before Young was even across the threshold of Elliott's room. Referring to Elliott's statement that he did not shake hands with Young after the shooting but closed the door of his room and sat down, Scott declared that even in the height of battle you seldom find a man who leaves a wounded man unto death.

"The men who went to Elliott's room were not ill-tempered franks," Scott declared, "but were actuated by righteous indignation at Elliott's remarks concerning the flag and his refusal to spend a cent for Liberty bonds. Pretty lucky man, this Elliott, snug in his cell in San Quentin. That is an easier fate than many a poor devil got 'over there'."

Scott lauded the ability shown in Attorney Bishop's defense, but declared Bishop had the "rottenest job" any lawyer in this county ever had when he tried to defend Elliott's fatal shooting of Young.

Mrs. Young collapsed After two days in court, where she heard recounted by several witnesses the events leading up to the fatal shooting of her husband, Mrs. Young collapsed yesterday afternoon shortly before court adjourned, and was almost carried, hysterically weeping, from the courtroom. The breakdown occurred just as A. L. Miller, one of the witnesses, told of Young's dying request made just after he was shot, that he be taken home to his wife and children. Then Mrs. Young, who had sat throughout the trial with bowed head, and with her two young children on her lap or by her side, could stand the strain no longer.

Witnesses examined yesterday afternoon were F. V. McAllister, James Sleener, C. M. Glazier, F. E. Woolsey, R. H. Hilbert, Louis Reed and L. J. Wester. The door of Elliott's room in the Western rooming house at La Habra was introduced as an exhibit by the defense.

Elliott Feared Murder That Young made threats to kill him was the statement of Elliott in his deposition taken in San Quentin prison, which was introduced as evidence late yesterday. Elliott declared he was confident that Young and his associates were about to break into his room to murder him, and that he shot Young in self-defense. He said he heard Young, in the hallway, say, "I'll kill him if I go to San Quentin twenty years for it," and that he fired at Young's form in the doorway as the door was pushed open. Young fell in the hallway with his feet to the door.

As he fell, Young held out his hand to Elliott to shake hands, according to Elliott's deposition, but Elliott refused to take it, saying, "This is no time for shaking hands." "I'm dying. Take me to my wife and children," Young then exclaimed, according to Elliott, who thereupon closed the door of his room and did not leave it until arrested by officers from Santa Ana.

Elliott, in his deposition, said he was never out of ammunition for his revolver, and had 162 rounds of ammunition ready for action at time of the shooting, besides two or three clips and several shells in the magazine. He said he didn't keep a gun for a toy, and sometimes used up a full box of cartridges in a short time.

Did Not Hear Threats

That they did not hear Young make any threats to kill or "get" Elliott was the testimony of Miller, Lindsay and Woolsey, who were near or in the hallway of the rooming house when the shooting occurred. They said they were close enough to the scene to hear such threats if they had been made.

According to the testimony, Young accosted Elliott on the street, asking him to buy Liberty Bonds, and that evening preceding the shooting made two visits to the hallway at the door of Elliott's room. Following his first visit, Young returned across the street to the drug store and Elliott said he saw something handed to Young, he thought a revolver. Other witnesses testified Young was handed an American flag, which he showed to Elliott on his second visit to Elliott's door, and said he was going to make Elliott kiss the flag.

B. R. Fitts, returned soldier, who was in Santa Ana in the Liberty Loan campaigns, and G. Bodkin are associated as attorneys for the plaintiff with Joseph Scott and W. I. Ford. All are of Los Angeles.

If No Delay In Legal Proceedings, Harbor Bonds May Be Sold In 2 to 3 Months

If there should be no delay in the necessary legal proceedings, the $500,000 Orange county harbor bonds may be sold by July 1 to 15, and the money from their sale may be in the treasury by the last of July, ready for use of the harbor commissioners in starting county improvement and protection of Newport harbor.

This fact was disclosed yesterday afternoon at an informal conference between the board of supervisors, four members of the harbor commission, Chairman Linn L. Shaw being absent, and District Attorney L. A. West. West advised the supervisors and commissioners of the legal steps necessary in carrying out the harbor improvements as authorized by the voters on June 10, but no official action was taken at this time.

A special meeting of the board will be held next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock for consideration of further harbor proceedings, and every reasonable effort will be made to expedite the preliminary work so that the improvements may be started this summer.

The supervisors are particularly anxious to have the bonds sold and the money on hand so that diversion of the Santa Ana river may be completed before winter. This first project under the bond issue will be undertaken as soon as possible in order to guard against any further deposits of silt in the bay.

INQUIRY ROUSES MUCH INTEREST IN P. O. SITE

Overshiner Finds Estimates of Vacant Corner Lot Values Gone Up

If Congressman Kettner's bill appropriating $30,000 for the purchase of a site for a federal building in Santa Ana should go through, where would that federal building be located?

What corner lots, measuring at least 100 by 125, situated close to the center of the business section, could be bought for $30,000?

Postmaster C. D. Overshiner has been stirring up some discussion on these two questions, for he has received a blank form from Postmaster-General Burleson in which inquiries are made concerning corner lot property values in Santa Ana.

"This is a form that we have been getting every year," said Overshiner, "and I do not know that it has anything to do with the fact that Congressman Kettner is trying to get an appropriation for a federal building site in Santa Ana. On the other hand, I don't know that there is no connection. I do know that we have had forms sent to us every year. The form just received is a little more extensive than ever before."

The postmaster-general asks for estimates in a general way upon corner lots in three situations, the center of the city, near the center of the city, near the depots. Questions to be answered also concern availability.

"My answers will be to the effect that there are no vacant lots in the center of the city available," said Overshiner. "I shall also point out that it is out of the question to locate a federal building, in which, of course, the postoffice would be located, so far away from the business section as the depots are here. Of course, I shall give my estimates along with these statements. On the face of the thing, if the bill passes, the location would have to be within a block or two of Fourth street. If the appropriation is made, inspectors will be sent here to gather data and make recommendations. Undoubtedly bids will be asked for, and a decision reached afterward."

"In making up my mind as to what I should report, I have interviewed a number of real estate men, merchants and property owners, and I have found that all of them are placing higher valuations upon vacant corners close in to Fourth street than they did a year ago or in any previous year. My reply shall be that some very good locations 100 by 125 feet can be secured within two and a half blocks of Fourth street, for prices ranging from $20,000 to $30,000."

MACHUS TAKES HIS MEDICINE, TEN DAYS

Charles Machus of Lankershim, arrested by Speed Officer O. K. Carr on the El Toro boulevard Sunday, going 56 miles an hour, showed up before Justice Cox this morning and took his medicine, a ten-day sentence in the Orange county jail. Machus admitted he was speeding, and took the sentence good naturedly. He is now in jail.

Today was the weekly speeders' day in Cox's court, and a great many offenders were due to appear. Among the speeders cited to appear today were H. Bon Durant, W. E. Provost, Y. Quintero, Walter Woods, J. H. Anderson, Los Angeles; S. R. Anderson, E. P. Border, J. M. Dodge, San Diego; C. H. Hill, E. E. Miller, C. H. Muloch, San Diego; T. S. Roberts, T. F. Stone, J. S. Whittier, and S. I. Wilson. Most of them are from Los Angeles.

For glare lights, no lights, or unlawful spotlights, the following were due in court today: H. J. Adams, Robert Cain, H. R. Schmolz, H. A. Boon, Chester Compton, E. E. Denny, D. J. Dwyer, S. D. Harris, Long Beach; J. T. Haver, Anaheim; T. Imagroa, S. E. Jones, E. E. Knight, Yorba Linda; C. McDowell, John Merriman, San Juan Capistrano; A. Meza, Olive; A. C. Miller, L. N. Meyer, T. R. Rimpau, P. V. Steen, T. G. Tashima, Wintersburg; E. Tremain, and C. W. Vroco.

Corner cutters were C. E. Shank and G. G. McWhittier.

COURTHOUSE NOTES

The defendant in the mortgage foreclosure action of Louisa P. Greenwald, administratrix of the estate of L. J. Greenwald, deceased, against Elton G. Galusha et al., has filed notice of appeal to the State Supreme court from a judgment of $3,633.05 against him entered on May 3.

Edward Long has been appointed administrator of the estate of Melissa Ann Long, deceased.

The divorce action of Edna A. Collier against John S. Collier has been dismissed.

William F. Booms has been appointed executor of the will of Katharina Booms, deceased, without bond. Frank Maldonado, 19, of El Modena, was to have gone to trial before a jury in the Superior court today on a felony charge involving a young Mexican girl of El Modena. But as court opened he changed his plea of not guilty to "guilty" and applied for probation. The hearing on his application is set for Friday.

The remittur from the Supreme court, affirming the order of Judge Z. B. West in the Gertrude Finley Pusey case, as recently announced in the Register, arrived here today.

MUST USE CARE IN CONTROL OF COCCIDIOSIS IN CHICKS

Directions Given Concern In- fectious Trouble In Poultry Yards

Owing to the presence of Coccidiosis in chicks throughout the county a few remarks and directions concerning the control of this disease are timely. The following treatise, written by Dr. J. R. Beach of the University Poultry department, will be found very helpful. Further information may be had at the Farm Advisor's office.

"Coccidiosis or coccidial enteritis is an infectious disease of chicks caused by protozoan organisms known as coccidia (coccidium tenellum). The intestines are usually the only organs infected, but occasionally lesions are found in the liver or lungs and other organs.

"Coccidia may exist in small numbers in the intestines of chicks without causing any apparent harm, but when they are present in sufficient numbers, they destroy the mucous membrane lining of the intestines and death results. The caeca or 'blind guts' are the portions of the intestines most seriously affected. The disease is seldom seen in chicks under two weeks or over four months of age.

History of Outbreaks
The usual history of outbreaks of coccidiosis is that the chicks do well until they are a few weeks old, when they begin to look unthrifty, droop and gradually die. It is not at all uncommon for entire flocks of chicks to die in the course of a month or six weeks.

"The symptoms of the disease do not differ materially from those of some other diseases and are, therefore, merely suggestive of coccidiosis. The feathers of sick chicks become ruffled and soiled; there is a marked paleness of the skin of the head and of the visible mucous membranes. The sick chicks are inclined to separate themselves from the rest of the flock and stand 'humped up' with their eyes closed for hours at a time unless disturbed. Usually diarrhoea, which is sometimes bloody, is present. A bloody diarrhoea can be considered as positive evidence of coccidial infection. Chicks usually show symptoms for at least three or four days before death occurs.

"The post-mortem lesions usually consist of an enlargement of the caeca. The contents of the enlarged caeca may be either normal in consistency and brown or reddish-brown in color, semi-liquid and bloody, or solid and yellowish white, brown or red in color. Occasionally there is not enlargement of the caeca nor abnormal appearance of the contents, so the absence of enlarged caeca cannot be taken as an indication that the chicks are not infected with coccidiosis. Frequently there is an inflammation of the lining of the intestines throughout their entire length. All other organs are, in most cases, apparently normal.

Farmers' Code Of Honor Is Suggested

The following "code of honor" for farmers in California was recently suggested by Dean H. E. Van Norman during an address before the graduating class at the University Farm School at Davis:

(1) That the land we cultivate and the flocks we feed shall be more fertile and more productive because they have been ours, aside from any wealth they may have given us.
(2) That we give freely to our neighbor of the fruits of our experience and observation, for agriculture is not a secret to be locked up from our competitors.
(3) That, as the products of agriculture are vital and essential to the life of society, so is the constructive thought and effort of man on the land necessary to the solution of great problems confronting this nation. And so, the gift of ourselves to the community is as vital as the product of our lands.

NEMATODES ARE DISCUSSED BY MAN SEEKING REMEDIES

Drying Out, Flooding and Use of Resistant Crops Are Presented

With a large acreage of sugar beet land in Orange county infested with the damaging sugar beet nematode, an address concerning that pest by Prof. D. G. Milbrath of the U. S. Department of Agriculture as given by him to the Wintersburg and Buena Park farm centers last Saturday is of widespread interest. The nematode was discussed at the meeting of the Wintersburg and Buena Park Farm centers, at Huntington Beach last Saturday, and in his address Prof. Milbrath reviewed briefly some of the principal things that the federal authorities are ready to say concerning the nematode. Investigations here and in Florida have been conducted.

"What is the nematode?" asked he in opening his address. The answer to his own question was that the nematode is a worm, belonging to the same family as the trichina and the hookworm. It lives in the soil and occurs along the Atlantic coast, and is particularly plentiful in Florida. It is in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California and in Orange county. Through it, there is a loss of $200,000 among cantaloupe growers in the Imperial valley this year.

"Of its own accord, the nematode travels only five or six inches in a year. But it can be carried by water and by tools.

"There are two main nematodes in this section. One is the garden nematode and the other is the sugar beet. The garden nematode forms knots on the roots of the garden crop.

"On pulling up an infested sugar beet you will find little white bodies like pearls on the roots. The head of the female nematode has been inserted in the root and it sucks its food from the beet. Each female lays from 350 to 450 eggs.

"The problem of the nematode is more serious because the eggs in a cyst can remain for five years and still become active.

"The garden or root knot nematode, however, will live only three or four years if it gets no crop on which to feed.

"In Europe control by the use of chemicals has been tried. That is too expensive. There is one chemical that has been used. That costs $250 an acre for application, and it must be applied three months before planting.

"Large quantities of fresh manure is effective. The nematode can't stand ammonia, which we get with fresh manure. But that, too, is a method that is too expensive to be practical.

"The nematode can't stand extreme heat, and the drying out of the soil is a method that reduces the nematode. The soil can be turned up to the sun, and baked by the sun.

"Another way of reducing the nematode is by flooding. That is a good way to get rid of the nematode on a small acreage, but it is no solution for a large acreage for flooding over a period long enough to drown out the nematode probably is not practical.

"Another thing that can be done is to plant your land to resistant crops. Among those resistant to the root knot nematode are some types of alfalfa, three types of cowpeas, some soybeans, barley, wheat, rice and peanuts. Among those resistant to the sugar beet nematode are sweet clover, which is shunned by farmers in this country, millet, buckwheat, three types of cowpeas, soybeans, rye and the resistant types of alfalfa.

"Peppers are susceptible to root knot nematodes, not to the sugar beet nematodes. Corn has some resistance. The sugar beet nematode is not active on citrus stock. The lima and black-eye beans are susceptible to nematode.

Farm Advisor Wahlberg and Prof. Milbrath are completing arrangements for an acre in the lowlands where nematodes are known to exist, and there various crops will be planted and experiments of various kinds will be conducted.

TRACTOR IS PRAISED BY ANAHEIM USERS

M. Eltiste & Son of Orange have a letter from W. B. Allen, Sr., and G. G. Allen, Jr., of Anaheim, saying that the International 8-16 Tractor is the best tractor investment on the market for the money. It will do the work more satisfactorily than horses, and at a great deal less expense.

"During the eight or nine months of the year that we use the 8-16 tractor, we can keep the machine busy more than half the time. We use a 5-foot double-disk harrow, and a four-section spring-tooth harrow for our work. For a nine hour day we cover about 15 acres with the disk-harrow and 20 acres with the spring-tooth harrow.

SOIL MOISTURE TESTS WILL BE SHOWN FRIDAY THIS WEEK

Practical Method of Determining Need Is to Be Explained

The Farm Bureau has arranged to conduct a series of soil moisture tests in the Harper district on Friday, June 20, with the assistance of Prof. R. S. Valle, soil expert of the citrus experiment station at Riverside.

The determination of soil moisture is one of the most important problems and others too little.

The purpose of this demonstration will be to acquaint the farmer with a practical method of determining for himself the optimum of moisture for his trees and of working out a practical system of water distribution so as to give the correct amount of moisture to the trees on his type of soil.

All orchard men interested in this type of demonstration are invited to attend the farm center demonstration at H. B. Woodrough's place at Harper at 2:30 p. m., June 20.

EXPERIMENT IN GROWING SUGAR BEET SEED

The sugar companies throughout Southern California have been endeavoring for some time to determine the feasibility of growing sugar beet seed in California. Two years ago the Holly Sugar company organized a sugar beet seed committee to take charge of the work and three plants were set to seed.

One of these plants is located on the Irvine ranch, in the low land between Tustin and Culver's corner. It is a forty-acre piece of ground. Selected last year's beets were transplanted on it. Many of the plants are now going to seed, sending up shoots two, three and four feet above the ground.

Heretofore, beet seed has been obtained from Russia, Poland, some from Denmark and other parts of Europe. Since the war the high cost of production and transportation have resulted in a shortage of seed. To offset this difficulty, the growing of seed is being tried here. However, it is too early to determine what the quality and yield will be, and whether or not it is a paying proposition.

DECIDES LOGANBERRY IS REALLY A BLACKBERRY

It is no longer the loganberry, but the Logan blackberry, according to a bulletin concerning the culture of this berry from the Bureau of Plant Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. The Logan blackberry was formerly thought to be a hybrid between a blackberry and a red raspberry. It is now, however, this government bulletin says, found not to be such, but has been definitely determined to be a variety of the Pacific coast species of trailing blackberry. Accordingly, it is the Logan blackberry. This berry was first brought to attention, in 1881, by Judge J. H. Logan of Santa Cruz, Cal., having been found growing from seed planted in his garden. It was thought to be a cross between a red raspberry and the Crandall blackberry. Further investigations, however, find that Judge Logan was in error in supposing it to be a hybrid and that it is in fact a variety of blackberry.

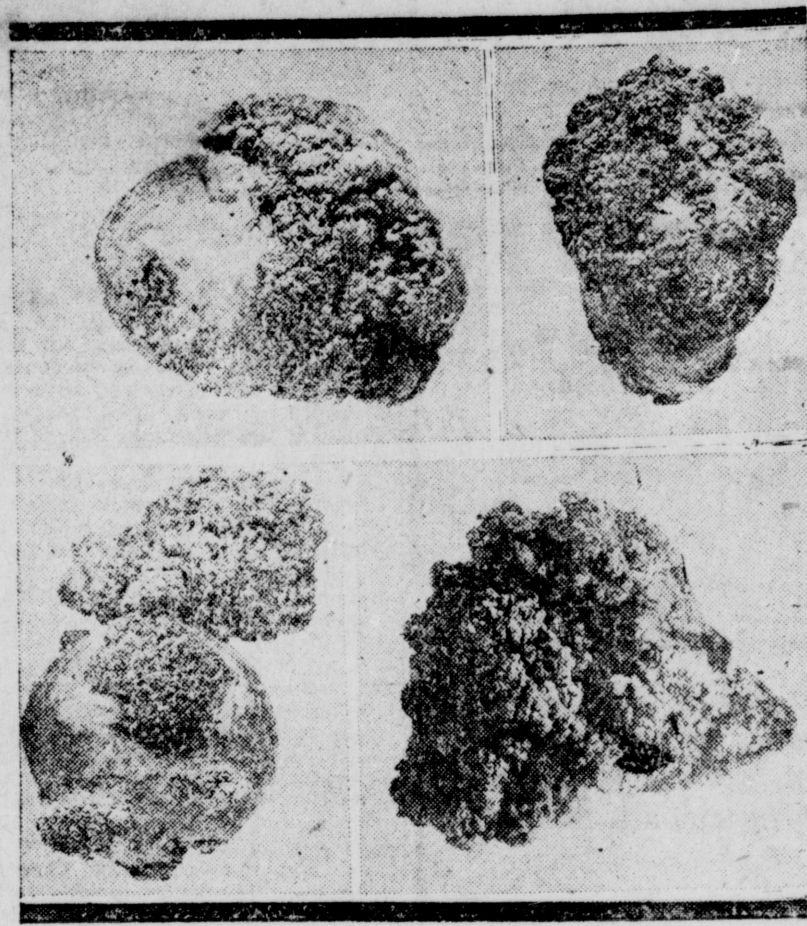

The bulletin containing this information is Farmers' Bulletin No. 988, entitled "Culture of the Logan Blackberry and Related Varieties," and contains much valuable information on this subject.

FIG OUTLOOK FOR 1919

The coming season will see the largest planting of figs in the history of the state. Many investors in the southern part of the state are planning large acreages throughout the San Joaquin Valley from Madera to Bakersfield. Acreages in Madera, Merced and Stanislaus counties will be very large while Fresno will maintain its present leading position as a producing county. Increases in fig growing are noted in Tulare county and the industry has been given impetus in Kern county.

Eventually California figs will dominate the country, if not, indeed, the world market.

TUSTIN CENTER GATHERING IS JUNE 28TH

The Tustin Farm Center is planning an interesting program for its picnic, to be held on the school grounds Saturday afternoon, June 28. Prof. H. J. Quayle, entomologist of the citrus experiment station, will outline the latest developments in the use of liquid gas for fumigation. A liquid gas machine will be on the grounds for inspection.

The Farm Bureau also expects Dr. Barrett, plant pathologist of the Citrus Experiment Station, to be present and give the latest information on the control of scaly bark. The methods of controlling this disease will be demonstrated in an adjacent orchard. It is expected that a large number of citrus growers, from over the county will be present to see these demonstrations.

A program of music is also being arranged. The women of Tustin will have charge of refreshments and the picnic dinner. Every family is requested to bring a dinner basket. The program will start at 3 p. m., with a scaly bark demonstration, after which a number of athletic contests will be engaged in by local teams. The dinner will be served at 6:00 o'clock. This will be followed by a program of music and an address. Further announcement of the program will be given later.

USE FIRELESS COOKER TO KEEP LUNCH WARM

When doing many kinds of winter farm work men find it necessary to carry a noon lunch. Without the aid of a fireless cooker this meal is usually cold and consequently unappetizing on a day when the mercury hovers near the zero point.

A home-made fireless cooker constructed from a galvanized iron bucket with a cover, according to directions given in Farmers' Bulletin 771—on home-made fireless cookers and their use—will enable a hot meal to be served in the woods or elsewhere on the coldest of days. There is little time or expense entailed in the manufacture of these time savers and comfort givers.

FRANKE IS PREPARED TO MAKE NEW PICKERS

J. F. Franke, inventor of the Franke Boss walnut picker, has located at 394 Bush street where he will manufacture and assemble his walnut pickers. These pickers were placed on the market for the first time last season and Franke says that they proved such a boon to tired backs that he is already receiving many inquiries and orders for this handy little implement. Last year Franke started to manufacture the pickers in a small way and had difficulty in making them fast enough to supply the local demand. This year he is better prepared to turn them out in large quantities and will be in a position to supply the demand not only here in Orange county but in other walnut growing sections as well.

UP TO GROWERS TO MAKE BEAN INDUSTRY'S FUTURE

Association Manager Shows Importance of Control of Marketing

A strong lima bean association in California can get growers a cent and a half or two cents more per pound for their beans than would be possible without an association.

This was one declaration made Saturday by R. L. Churchill, manager of the California Lima Bean Growers Association, in an address to members of the Wintersburg and Buena Park farm centers attending the picnic at Huntington Beach.

Churchill frankly reviewed the bean situation. He emphasized the necessity of an organization that controls at least eighty per cent of the lima beans, as it is only through such an organization can the control of a market be kept.

He said that in the old days when a grower got five cents a pound for his limas, the beans were sold to the consumer at fifteen cents, and in the process they sometimes changed hands nineteen times.

"The association idea," said he, "is so basic that it regulates the price of your land. If over a period of years you fail to get enough for a crop to pay interest on land supposed to be worth $1,000 an acre, certainly that land is not worth $1,000 an acre. Its value depends on what you can clear on it."

Last fall there came a rain. Independent buyers who were anxious to beat down the market wired to eastern brokers not to buy then, because, the independents said, beans were bound to go lower. Then came another rain, and they again wired the buyers not to buy. The association sold all the beans the market, discouraged by the independents, would take. Finally the independents managed to beat down the market.

"Within a week after the armistice, there came a panic for fear the government would throw back on the people a large quantity of foodstuffs. So the market quit taking beans and lots of other products. Beans went down a cent a week.

"Eleven weeks ago with limas at 5.75 cents we called a meeting of bankers and others, and a pool was formed. We started the pool sale at 6.75 and the price has constantly advanced to nine cents. On March 1st there were on hand 800 cars of limas and 125 cars of baby limas. Today,

Industry Is Menaced But Experts Believe Control Can Be Secured

The potato industry is seriously menaced by a malady new to this country—the potato wart disease. Unless it can be eradicated before it spreads to commercial plantings, specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say it will cost potato growers millions annually. It is easily recognized and when discovered it should be promptly reported to federal or state agricultural officials.

The disease has not appeared here but it is well for all farmers to know something about it.

Like many other plant diseases and insect pests, the potato wart disease was imported from Europe. It is without doubt the most serious potato disease yet discovered in the United States. Unless promptly suppressed it may prove disastrous to the entire American potato industry, which involves nearly half a billion dollars annually.

USE CARE WITH GIVING GREENS TO CATTLE

Many a cow has been lost from eating wet alfalfa or other succulent greens to excess after a season on dry and perhaps scanty pasture. Breaking into fields of corn or any fresh growing crops that taste so good as a change and eating all that her stomach will hold is one of the principal causes of bloat.

Fermentation develops in the mass of fresh greens rapidly and the resultant gas fills the stomach to its utmost capacity.

The danger to the animal from acute bloating is not that the distended stomach may rupture, for such an accident is almost unknown. The pressure of the gas-distended stomach, however, exerts a dangerous pressure upon the heart and lungs, with the result that animals dying from acute bloating usually die of strangulation through inability to breathe with their compressed lung tissue. The principal cause being overeating of green forage owners of cattle should guard against any chance of such feeding.

To prevent bloating in cattle, the animals should be shifted, by easy stages, from dry or scanty feed to abundant and luxuriantly growing fodder. A gradual increase of the time allowed to feed on succulent forage and keeping a constant supply of good dry hay where the cattle can get it are excellent precautions.

When a cow is noticed with sides distended or even lifted above the backbone the person in charge must act quickly.

Relieve the Pressure

Removal of the gas from the paunch will quickly bring relief. If a veterinarian is within reach he should be summoned at once. If no surgeon is available, the owner should immediately attempt to bring relief to his animal.

Many cattle owners keep a trocar and canula constantly on hand and thoroughly understand its use. The trocar is a sharp pointed rod provided with a metallic sheath or canula which leaves the point of the trocar exposed. The spot to be selected for inserting the trocar is a point equally distant from the last rib, the hip bone, and the lateral bony projections from the spine in the region of the loins. Here a small cut about three-fourths of an inch long should be made through the skin with a small knife, and then the trocar with canula attached may be pushed through the cut into the paunch. The trocar is then removed, allowing the gas to escape through the canula. The canula should be retained in place so long as any gas escapes through it. Sometimes several hours are necessary, and the canula should be firmly tied in place. An attendant should remain near the animal, if possible, so long as the canula is in the paunch.

Medicines That Relieve

If the animal is not distressed by the bloating, and the swelling of the body is not great, or when the alarming conditions have been removed by the use of the trocar, it is best to resort to internal medicine to allay the formation of gas. Two ounces of aromatic spirits of ammonia in two quarts of cold water should be given every half hour, or half an ounce of chloride of lime dissolved in a pint of tepid water may be given every half hour until the pressure of the bloating has been removed. A dose of purgative medicine is usually beneficial after the bloating has disappeared. For this purpose one pound of Glauber's salts will usually prove effective.

Care should be used in the administration of fluid medicines. Take time. Do not hold the cow's head too high. Keeping the animal's head raised, so that her nose is slightly higher than the level of her face will allow her to swallow without interference.

FUTURE OF BEANS IS UP TO GROWERS

after eleven weeks in the pool, there are thirty-five cars of limas and about the same number of baby limas. This has been a most remarkable demonstration of the efficiency of co-operation.

Next year we hope to control eighty per cent of the crop, and we can then control the market. With a strong association there is no question but what we can get a cent and a half or two cents more a pound for the grower than would be possible without a strong association.

"Last year's crop was probably the biggest crop of lima beans this state will ever have, for bean lands are constantly giving way to orchards. If by marketing methods and advertising we can increase the demand of the public for beans, certainly with no more acreage likely to go into beans and this state having the only district suited to lima growing, the prospect for the future is good, provided the farmers co-operate. It is an industry that is not going up against an increasing production.

"The growers have the future of the bean industry in their own hands. In order to secure proper co-operation you will all have to cast aside unfriendly feelings and selfishness. Any farmer who has in mind the ultimate price of beans, the income over a period of years, and the value of his land will give the association his support."

Churchill explained the plan under which the association may organize for the coming year under an agreement with the Waterman and Levy interests.

He said that Waterman, as selling agent for a group of Ventura growers, has control of 150,000 bags of beans. He will surrender his con-

USE MUCH CARE TO CONTROL DISEASE

Coccidiosis Attacks Young Chicks, Often Killing Whole Flock

"Symptoms and lesions very similar to these, however, may be produced by causes other than coccidiosis; therefore, a microscopic examination is necessary for a positive diagnosis. If a coccidia are the cause they will be found in large numbers when the contents of the intestines are examined microscopically.

"Coccidiosis is spread by the organisms which pass out with the droppings of diseased birds. Other chicks become infected by drinking water or eating food, litter, or particles of soil contaminated by the droppings from diseased chicks. It has been demonstrated that these organisms will remain alive in soil for a year or more. Therefore, chicks that are allowed to run in yards in which infected chicks were kept the year previous are very likely to become infected.

Feed Is Important

"There are no drugs which have been found to be practical for treating diseased chicks. Seemingly good results were obtained by emetine hydrochloride, but the cost of this drug prohibits its use.

"It is known, however, that the presence of acid and a perfectly healthy condition of the mucous membrane of the intestines inhibits the multiplication of these organisms and it is also known that, unless they are present in large numbers very little damage is done. Therefore, the disease can be controlled if the mucous membrane is kept in a perfectly healthy condition and the intestinal contents acid. These conditions may be brought about by feeding the chicks sparingly of grain and mash (superabundance of food in the intestines causes malfermentation which lowers the resistance of the tissues to the action of the organisms), and by feeding sour milk or buttermilk in large quantities, the lactic acid in the milk inhibiting the multiplication of the organisms.

"Good results can sometimes be obtained by giving hydrochloric acid in the drinking water, one teaspoonful of the acid per quart of water. If buttermilk or sour milk is unobtainable, hydrochloric acid may be used. Every effort to obtain sour milk should be made, however.

"Investigation at this station has shown that the above measures can be put into successful practical application and that the following sanitary measures and feeding method are an efficient means for controlling the disease.

Sanitary Measures:

If only a few chicks are visibly sick when the presence of the disease is discovered, remove them from the flock and either keep them isolated or kill and burn them, preferably the latter. If, however, a large percentage of the flock are visibly affected, remove only the worst cases, which should be killed and burned.

Change and Plow

If possible, put the chicks on new ground. If this is not possible, plow or spade the yards. Thoroughly clean the houses with a strong disinfectant solution. After the floors have dried, cover them with a thin layer of litter (shavings, chopped alfalfa hay or straw). Sweep out this litter DAILY, burn it and put fresh litter in the houses. The litter will collect the droppings, thus preventing them from sticking to the floor, and making the daily cleaning easy. Continue this daily cleaning until the chicks are old enough to roost, and for a longer period if all signs of the disease have not disappeared.

"If old enough to roost, deep litter can be put in the houses and the daily cleaning confined to the dropping boards underneath the roosts. It is advisable to exclude the chicks from the dropping boards by means of wire netting. Keep all feeding and drinking vessels scrupulously clean at all times.

Feeding method:

Feed a SMALL amount of grain night and morning. Feed mash during the middle of the day, never leaving it before the chicks longer than two hours. Feed greens as usual. Keep buttermilk in fountains constantly before the chicks. The restricted grain ration will keep the chicks hungry and they will consume large quantities of buttermilk. If too much grain and mash are fed and the chicks drink large quantities of buttermilk, sour crop is very liable to result. There is no danger of this occurring, however, if the amount of grain fed is small.

In most instances, if the above sanitary measures and feeding method are carefully followed, improvement in the condition of the flock will be noticeable in three or four days and all signs of the disease will have disappeared in from two to four weeks. The buttermilk will cause the dropping to be somewhat "watery," but this should not be considered as being at all dangerous.

The above feeding methods should be employed from the start, when chicks are put in houses and yards in which a flock infested with coccidia was kept the year before. Buttermilk has considerable food value, so that normal growth and development will be obtained.

tract with these growers. The Levy group also agrees to go into the association. Under the plan offered these two firms instead of being competitors, will become selling agents for the association at five per cent brokerage, they to pay the eastern trade discount and brokerage.

"It is up to the farmers to join the associations," said Churchill in closing. "It looks as though the opportunity to make the bean business a better business is here."

MUST STOP POTATO DISEASE AT ONCE

recognized; and it spreads slowly. However, it can not be detected until the potatoes are dug, as it does not seriously affect the growth or vigor of the vines.

It usually appears in the eyes of the tubers. Spreading from this point of infection, it may gradually envelop the whole potato and render it a spongy, warty mass. It is characterized by the prominent wart-like outgrowths on the tubers.

The warts at first are whitish or light brown. Eventually they turn to a darker shade. After decay starts they turn black. Young warts, when exposed to the light, turn green.

The warty tumors vary from the size of a pea to a walnut; or they may even exceed the size of the potato on which they grow. In the latter case, the warty mass loses all resemblance to a potato. In some hills some of the potatoes may appear perfectly healthy, but the eyes are likely to be infected.

It is through the use of such apparently sound potatoes for seed that the disease is often spread to new localities.

Under ordinary conditions the potato wart disease spreads slowly. It lives in the soil and on the tubers, so one or the other must usually be transported to introduce the disease into a new field or locality. The spores may be carried into clean soil by drainage from infected soil, on the feet of men or animals, by planting sound tubers that have grown on infected soil, by the use of manure from animals to which diseased potatoes have been fed, and by garbage into which peelings from diseased potatoes have been thrown.

Preventive Measures

No method of controlling the potato wart disease has yet been discovered, so every preventive measure must be used to keep it from spreading. The warts should be burned. Diseased tubers must not be fed to live stock without first being boiled. Infested soil should be planted to other crops. Potatoes should not be planted again in infested soil for at least eight years.

Federal and state agricultural authorities are working to prevent the spread of potato wart, but they will need heartiest co-operation from every grower and dealer of potatoes to save the industry from this new menace. Experiments are being conducted to learn, if possible, ways of controlling the malady, and information will be furnished as rapidly as discovered. But potato wart disease is much easier to prevent than to control.

Keep watch at digging time for potatoes with warty growths which are whitish or light brown when young, black and decayed when old. Report promptly all suspicious cases to your county farm advisor, to your state agricultural experiment station, or to the United States Department of Agriculture.

GOVERNOR WILLIAM D. STEPHENS

calls on you to support the campaign to raise $1,000,000 to guarantee the construction of a paved, year-around highway from Merced to Yosemite National Park

"I strongly urge the purchase of Yosemite Valley certificates by all who love California and its wonderland," he has appealed.

Governor Stephens has purchased $5.00 certificates of motor vehicle entry to Yosemite. His check for certificates is printed on this page.

Governor Stephens, in common with thousands of other citizens, realizes that California's magnificent highway system will not be completed until a paved highway is built to Yosemite that will make that scenic gem accessible to the world every day in the year.

Before the construction of the 70-mile scenic boulevard can be undertaken by the State Highway Commission $1,000,000 must be raised through the sale of certificates.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA Governor's Office Sacramento.

Yosemite Valley Highway Association,
215 First National Bank Building,
San Francisco, California.

Dear Sir:

Believing as I do that the Yosemite Valley is a wonderful drawing card for California and that an all the year around paved highway from Merced to El Portal—the entrance to the Valley—will insure thousands of visitors yearly that otherwise would never see the Yosemite, I strongly urge the purchase of Yosemite Valley certificates by all who love California and its wonderland.

Sometime ago I subscribed for the first certificate (Number 1) and now I ask for the last certificate (Number 200,000) and send herewith my check for $10.00.

Yours very truly,

WM. D. STEPHENS,
Governor.

Each certificate is good, in lieu of the government's regular $5 motor vehicle entrance toll, for any one season in the next 10 years.

Hundreds of our returned fighting men will be employed on this California project. It is hoped to undertake work on the roadway this summer.

Certificates are now on sale by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, by the Auto Club of Southern California and all its branches, by the leading automobile dealers throughout Orange County, and by all other recognized public institutions.

But three days remain in this statewide drive to raise $1,000,000 to insure the success of this highly important project. Over 75,000 of the motor vehicle certificates must be sold by Saturday night.

Orange County Will Do It's Share

Buy your certificate tomorrow and show the entire State that we Orange County auto enthusiasts and lovers of the great outdoors stand back of everything that tends to open this scenic wonderland to the world every day in the year. Remember, you MUST buy your certificate by Saturday night!

CENTURY PLANT EXPECTED TO BLOOM SOON

Planted In Orange Thirty Years Ago By C. B. Bradshaw

ORANGE, June 18.—The large century plant, the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Bradshaw, 224 North Glassell street, has been attracting a great deal of attention lately as it is budding out and will bloom soon.

Thirty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw moved from Los Angeles to a ranch near Orange, bringing with them the century plant, which was then about as large as an ordinary hat. From the ranch, they soon moved to the house in which they now live. The plant was set out in the garden at the rear of the house and has been growing there for almost thirty years.

About a year ago the large leaves began to droop and it was thought that it was dying, but a short time ago a stalk appeared, growing from the center of the withering plant so rapidly that it is now about twenty-five feet high, having many branches at the top, upon which the buds are forming. Mrs. Bradshaw will be pleased to show the plant to anyone who is interested in the unusual in nature.

Entertained Modern Priscillas

The H. W. Wulff home on Center street in Villa Park was the scene of an unusually charming affair when Miss Elsie Wulff entertained the Modern Priscillas and their husbands. The Wulffs have a beautiful swimming pool surrounded by an arbor which was lit up by Japanese lanterns. At dusk the guests arrived garbed in their bathing suits and participated in a refreshing plunge. After the swim the guests donned their clothes and enjoyed a weinie bake, supplemented by delicious coffee and buns. The huge bonfire where the weinies were roasted was the center of attraction. Games were played and later on during the evening the hostess served ice cream and cakes. Those present beside the Wulff family were:

SEES WESTMINSTER AFTER MANY YEARS

WESTMINSTER, June 18.—Mrs. Flora Turner, a former resident, in her Chevrolet, with Albert E. Carlson as driver, arrived from Greenfield, Monterey county, Friday afternoon for a brief visit with old-time friends. They left Greenfield on Tuesday, arriving at Whittier Wednesday, where they visited Mrs. Minnie Hunt, who came down with them and visited her sister, Mrs. Roberts, during her stay.

Mrs. Turner and Carlson spent Friday night with O. B. Byram and family, and Saturday and Sunday night were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards. They drove around to see two different places where Mrs. Turner had lived here years ago and found both houses she had occupied had been moved away. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Larter Sunday, spending the night at Orange with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore. They left Monday for Whittier and expected to arrive at Greenfield Wednesday.

Albert Carlson, who has made his home with the Turners since he was seven years of age, has recently returned from France, where he was in service for a year. He served as private with the U. S. Marines in the 7th company, sixth regiment of the second division, and was in action from Soissons to Metz. He was wounded below the knee at St. Mihiel and also gassed at the same time, afterwards spending three months in the hospital. While overseas his mail failed to reach him for months at a time, there being one period of eight months in which he did not receive a letter. Meanwhile his friends were writing regularly and receiving his letters right along. The Red Cross was appealed to with the result that letters began to go through. He is on a two months' furlough and will soon return to Quantico, Virginia, where his wound, from which he has not entirely recovered, will receive further attention. He enlisted for four years, but his friends are hoping for an earlier release. On coming back to this country he has been transferred to 17th company 14th regiment M. B.

WESTMINSTER GIRL IS HONORED AT STANFORD

WESTMINSTER, June 18.—Word has been received here that Miss Henrietta Dickey, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Dickey, of Westminster, has been elected into Cap and Gown, the women's honor society at Stanford University. This is considered the highest honor that can be given to a Stanford student and those who are members are the most prominent women in college.

Miss Dickey has been especially active in Red Cross work and was chairman of the Stanford auxiliary for two years. She was also a member of the Woman's War Board, on the staff of the university paper, vice president of the Y. W. C. A. and interested in several other organizations. She belongs to the Delta Delta Delta Sorority.

For those who prefer them we now have comfortable cushioned partition booths at the Dragon lunch room. Our noon-day lunch will please you—varied menu, daintily served.

Dragon noon-day lunch has the real home cooking taste. Lady chef from Santa Ana, and three-minute service.

ANAHEIM ACTIVE IN BUILDING OPERATIONS

Four Months Developments, Contemplated Construction Equals Half Million

ANAHEIM, June 18.—With the first half of 1919 not yet passed, Anaheim's building program now contemplates expenditure of half a million dollars, and really men say the town is only getting started. What the next six months will disclose even the most sanguine do not prophesy.

The program which has been outlined during the six months of 1919 is far in excess of anything that has ever been seen in Anaheim in any one of two or three years.

It is away ahead of any other city in the county.

Better Houses Being Built

Not only is the construction of public and business buildings experiencing a most satisfactory revival, but the matter of private residences is coming in for considerable attention now. A very satisfactory conclusion from the residence construction to date is that such residences are more artistic and more up-to-date than much of the former construction of this class.

Business real estate is mounting as rapidly as are citrus fruit lands adjacent to the city.

There is a growing sentiment about the city that with such display of assurance upon the part of business men and individuals in the future of the city, that the city itself should proceed now with its long-delayed civic center and city hall construction.

Where's That Civic Center?

The present city hall has long been an eyesore and stigma on the fair name of the city, say public spirited individuals, who add that there is no better time to undertake such improvement than the present, with real estate and building costs mounting every day the matter is delayed.

The city of Anaheim must keep step with progress, if individuals and business interests are to be expected to make improvements, said a prominent citizen today.

There isn't a more progressive appearing business district to be found anywhere than in Anaheim, continued the speaker. It is up to the Anaheim public to keep step.

Anaheim's Building Program To Date

$116,000 for additional ground and new grammar school buildings, including $70,000 central school building.

$75,000 for Elks club house on Lemon street.

$54,000 for new Methodist church on Broadway; this does not include cost of real estate, pipe organ and other furnishings.

$45,000 packing house of Anaheim Orange and Lemon Association.

$15,000 or more in bungalow court, comprising eventually 16 bungalows, to be built by Billy Franz on Lemon street.

$30,000 for apartment house, built by Vic LaMont; this does not include furnishings.

$10,000 or $15,000 in modern garage building on site just purchased

VILLA PARK SCHOOL AT ANNUAL PICNIC

VILLA PARK, June 18.—The Villa Park school held its annual picnic on Saturday at the County Park. A wagon was provided for the children as a means of conveyance and part of them went by machine. There were about seventy-five present, and they sat down to a splendid dinner at noon. The Villa Park crowd didn't have the grounds to themselves by any means. There were at least seven other picnics that day, so that slides, boats, donkeys and ice cream were in big demand.

After dinner the children spent the afternoon about as they chose at the various amusements, and part of them went over to the old "toboggan slide" on the hillside, which used to be the favorite playing ground of the boys before the slides were built in the park.

SWIMMING PARTY FOR CLUB AT VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, June 18.—Miss Elsie Wulff entertained the Modern Priscillas and their escorts Monday evening with a swimming party at her home. The guests came prepared with their suits and those who cared to went in swimming and the others sat and watched. A water polo ball was tossed into the pool and the fun soon was at its height. After the ladies left the pool the men indulged in a game of water polo. Later all gathered around a splendid bonfire and roasted weinies. The guests were provided with the toasting wires and weinies and told to go to it. The guests were also served ice cream and cakes.

The list of guests included all the Modern Priscillas and their escorts and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sussdorf.

by George West, at corner of Chestnut and Los Angeles street.

$10,000 or more in two-story business block to be erected at Lemon and Center streets by Theo. Roberts.

$5,000 for auto sales room for Cole and Lexington agencies of G. R. Franklin and G. M. Simpson; building erected by Theo. Roberts on Lemon street.

$3,000 for addition to Stanley's garage.

$3,000 for addition to Taggart Motor Co. garage.

$3,000 or more for Kistler building and improvements to Coston Bakery building.

$1,000 for addition to Anaheim Laundry Co.

$2,000 for addition to S. R. Walter's vulcanizing store.

The above totals $432,000, which is all for new construction save a matter of a few thousand of the school bonds, which goes for additional school grounds at Fremont. Other miscellaneous construction, improvements to business blocks, individual residences, etc., it is estimated by realty men, makes Anaheim's building program as outlined the first six months of 1919 in excess of half a million.

AUTO BREAKAGE CAUSES HERE DISCUSSED

Vibration Is Common Cause For Trouble With Parts of Machine

Every automobile owner at one time or another has had occasion to study a repair bill for replacement of broken or injured parts, and once, at least, has endeavored to show the manufacturer that the failure was due to "poor material." When a part breaks for no apparent reason the owner comes to the conclusion that the material was poor.

A recent case of axle trouble will illustrate the point. An owner broke five differential ring gears in succession, and not one lasted more than six months, three of them only a few hundred miles. This owner insisted that the gear material was of an inferior grade and promptly told the car maker so, but an investigation showed that the ring gear was not running true; that there was point contact of teeth, and even strongest nickel gear might break down under such conditions.

It is quite true that many parts such as axle shafts, motor supports, crankshafts, pistons, etc., may break if the material is of poor quality, but in the majority of cases even the poorest grade of metal for that particular part will stand up for a long period. The design of the part has as much to do with breakage as the material from which it is made, assuming of course that proper lubricating conditions are maintained.

It may be difficult for the owner of an automobile to understand why tool marks on an axle shaft cause breakage, but as a matter of fact this may actually be the case. Tool marks on a bearing surface is exactly like having a few high spots to take the wear and strain. Looking at the part with the naked eye it is hard to see why it should break because of a few grooves in it.

Errors in Design

A highly polished surface has a greater area of contact than an unfinished surface, hence it will not wear so much and can stand up for a longer period. For this reason many cheap cars, though made of good materials and well designed, but cheapened by labor saving parts, give a lot of trouble in smaller parts.

Closely allied with mere tool marks as a cause of breakage comes a design error which employs sharp corners instead of rounded corners. If you will look at the wheel spindle of your car you may notice that its innermost end is rounded off instead of squared off. Where it is squared off the chance of breakage is greater. The accurate finishing of parts and the rounding of corners all take time and cost money, hence it is not usual to find this carried out to a great extent on any but high-grade cars.

Vibration is another common cause of failure. Crankshafts perhaps more than any part receive a great deal of vibration because of the various forces acting on this part and the speed of which it runs. In some cars which habitually misfire this vibration becomes greater and the chances for breakage are increased. If the shaft is too small and is not well designed in so far as its balance is concerned it may break in a very short time. Even the heaviest crankshaft, however, made twice as thick as usual and made of superior materials, may break more easily than a cheap shaft if attention is not paid to balance.

Vibratory Trouble

It is not easy for the owner to understand how a heavy and apparently stiff piece of high-grade metal can bend and twist, all out of shape, due to vibration and unbalance, but such is actually the case in the engine crankshaft. If you will remember that even slight hand pressure on a table or even a stone wall causes a slight (though not measureable compression) it will be easy to see how many tons' pressure to which a crankshaft is subjected at times may cause the shaft to bend out of shape.

There is another cause of failure in parts, namely that due to a weak section or use of too little metal. Every time a hole is bored in a piece of metal it weakens it just that much. The more metal the stronger the part. Some cars have parts so small in section or thickness, at places that they soon break at that weak spot. Where small sections are used for lightness the maker must resort to the use of better quality material and better finish of the part.

Take any bearing and put a piece of sand on it and for the time the sand particle is there it takes the whole strain. It is the highest point of contact. Where two surfaces are supposed to rub they must be as smooth as glass and fitted so they rub all over. If only a portion rubs then that small portion takes the strain, and that which does not rub does no work. This shows the importance of alignment of moving parts and the need for perfect fitting and constant lubrication.

BLOODED PIGEONS ARE $90 EACH IN FRANCE

PARIS, June 18.—Blooded pigeons are being sold in the invaded districts of France and Belgium for as high as $90 each.

The general high cost of living is not considered as having any effect on this price, for the reason that at $90 each pigeon can no longer be regarded as an article of food. The price is due to other causes. During the German occupation of northern France and Belgium, no effort was made to keep up the local industry of pigeon breeding. Instead, the Germans ate what pigeons were there at the time of their invasion and thus the breeds died out entirely.

With the return to these districts of regular inhabitants, efforts are being made to renew the breeding of blooded pigeons.

PURE BRED HOGS PAY LESSON FROM BOYS

Books Kept By Club Show Net Gain For Feeding Duroc-Jerseys

One hundred and thirty-four pounds of pork put on a pig in 110 days!

Four boys, members of the Huntington Beach Union High School, working as a Boys Club under the direction of W. C. Ralston of the University of California, state leader of boys clubs, did that very thing.

They made an average gain of 134 pounds in 110 days in a statewide contest. "By these clubs," said Ralston, "we plan to interest boys in farming. We are not half as much interested in the 'back to the farm' movement as we are in the 'stay on the farm' movement. We want to teach boys how to grow things on the farm profitably. With these clubs we try to get boys to do farming on large enough scale to make it worth while, so they can make some money."

"Most farmers keep no books. That is unfortunate, for they ought to keep a record to know where they stand. These boys have kept books. They know just what it has cost them to put on the weight they have put on these hogs."

The pigs averaged fifty-two pounds in weight when they were bought. They are purebred Duroc-Jersey stock, just as good animals as there are to be had. As such they are worth twenty-five cents a pound. They cost an average of $10.62 per pig when the contest was started, the pigs then being nine weeks old. Today they are worth $43.06 apiece. The average gain has been 134 pounds in 110 days. The cost of the food was fourteen cents per pound gained. That is high because the boys had no cheap food here. They have made a net profit of $12.57 per hog.

"These boys have demonstrated that it really pays to keep good hogs. It will pay any farmer in Orange county to keep good stock."

The boys in the pig club were Glenn Byram, Roy Morgan, Bennie Cox and Neal Bradbury.

ACTION OF HUMUS BENEFIT TO SOIL

At the present state of agricultural knowledge it must seem superfluous to extol the virtues of humus as a soil amendment, yet this might prove interesting in its detail and perhaps instructive to some.

Its addition to all but humus soils improves the same in many ways.

Not only are the plant foods in humus easily made available for plant use, but it also renders those of the soil itself available; therefore, adequate addition of humus to soils already containing these is in a measure the equivalent of adding a complete fertilizer.

Soils rich in humus are warmer, other things being equal, than other soils, and this is an important fact to the fruit and vegetable grower since it advances maturity of the crops.

In the arid regions perhaps the greatest usefulness of humus is in increasing the power of the soil to hold water, which it does in a remarkable degree. For instance, while a sandy loam will normally retain 10 to 15 per cent of its weight of water and a clay 25 to 35 per cent, humus will retain 200 to 300 per cent of the same. Now, where water is rapidly removed by evaporation the value of this property is beyond dispute.

It increases capillary action by improving the structure of the soil, and hence, moisture efficiency, facilitating the movement of water and plant food toward the feeding roots, replenishing these when removed by absorption into the plant body.

In Southern California conditions the maintenance of adequate supplies of humus and humus forming materials in the soil is of the first importance as this increases the efficiency of all fertilizer materials and keeps the soil in the best condition for the operation of every agency favoring production.

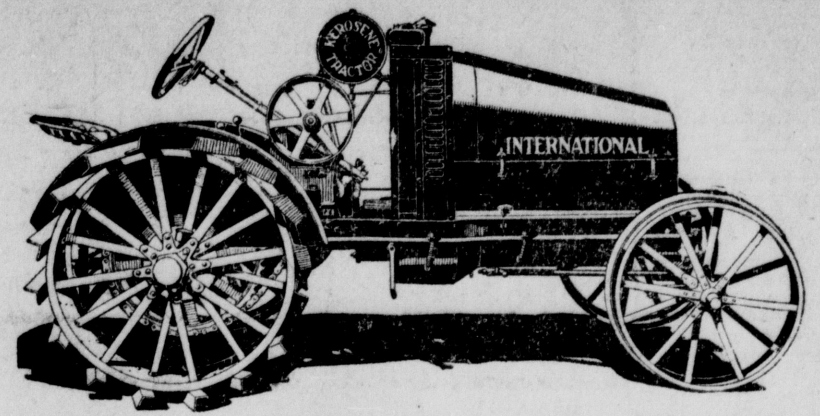

A relatively large amount of organic matter is required to produce a given amount of humus; therefore as a matter of fact a given amount of humus represents a much larger amount of ordinary organic matter.

DUKE OF WELLINGTON PAYS HIS RENT TODAY

LONDON, June 18.—Today, the 104th anniversary of the Battle of Waterloo is "rent day" for the Duke of Wellington. But his grace does not have to dive down very far into his pockets, as a little silk standard on a silver staff, a replica of the French cavalry standard captured at Waterloo by his famous ancestor, is all he has to pay for Apsley House, his London residence and Stratfield Saye, Berkshire, which were presented by the nation to the "Iron Duke."

This "peppercorn rent," as it is called, was formerly presented to the sovereign annually by the duke in person, but of late years the monarch has not had time for such small ceremonies, and this year the duke merely sent the "rent" round by his secretary, who turned it over to a royal equerry. The little standards usually find their way to the Guards Mess at Windsor.

Walnut Picking Made Easy with Franke's Boss Walnut Picker

The Franke Boss Walnut Picker is a practical, workable and substantial walnut picker, which has been thoroughly tried out by a great many walnut growers and has been universally adopted in every walnut growing section where it has been introduced.

It is so simple in construction, so easy to handle that it can be used by any child who is old enough to pick up walnuts in the old way and it is a boon to the old people whose backs have ached as a result of constant stooping.

Another big advantage to be gained in using this picker is that it makes walnut picking much faster. Try one and be convinced. You will never go back to the old way.

Woman Threatens Suit Against Druggist Because He Sold Her Substitute For Nuxated Iron Case Is Brought To Attention of Physicians Who Warn Public

Say That Ordinary Metallic Iron Preparations Cannot Possibly Give The Same Strength Power and Endurance As Organic Iron—Nuxated Iron.

With the threat to sue her druggist because he sold her a substitute for genuine Nuxated Iron, the tonic, strength and blood-builder, one woman has set in motion a case of indignation over the country against a practice which offers such countless dangers to the health and welfare of the public. This woman claims that instead of obtaining increased strength and improved health as she had with the true Nuxated Iron, she was seriously upset and in fact became ill as a result of using the substitute. Such instances as these have led physicians mentioned below to emphasize that health officials and doctors everywhere should caution the public against accepting substitutes for Nuxated Iron. Those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder should go to their family doctors and obtain a prescription calling for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and present this to their druggist so that there may be no question about obtaining the proper article. But if they do not wish to go to the trouble of getting a prescription for Nuxated Iron then they should be sure to look on the label and see that the words NUXATED IRON are printed thereon. There are thousands of people taking iron who do not distinguish between organic iron and metallic iron and such persons often fail to obtain the vital energy, strength and endurance which they seek simply because they have taken the wrong form of iron. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see how much you have gained. WATERCOURSE'S TONIC The widespread publication of the above information has been suggested by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Department) New York and the Worcester County Hospital; Dr. Francis Sullivan, New York physician and Medical Author; Dr. George H. Baker, formerly physician and Medical Examiner, and others so that the public may be informed on this subject and protected from the use of metallic iron under the delusion that it is Nuxated Iron or at least something as good as Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the bowels, make them slack, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturer guarantees successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser if they will read the label. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

DEMPSEY SHOWS GOOD WEIGHT FOR FIGHT

Tips Scales at 201 Pounds
Setting at Rest Tales of Weakness

By H. C. HAMILTON
United Press Staff Correspondent.
TOLEDO, Ohio, June 18.—Jack Dempsey money made a renewed appearance here today with much vigor, following the surprise yesterday when he stepped on a set of scales and shot the indicator point to 201 pounds.
Opponents of the challenger's chances with the gigantic champion have been predicting that Dempsey would wear himself to a shadow with his strenuous methods of training, and that he would fall a quick victim to exhaustion by being trained so much. Dempsey weighs about thirteen pounds more right now than when he defeated Fred Fulton in a round at Harrison, N. J., last fall. And he is in better condition, considered from every standpoint.

When the two heavies meet on July 4 there will be about forty pounds difference in their weights, provided reports from Willard's camp can be taken at their face value. This is about the same margin that existed when Tom Sharkey and Jim Jeffries met in their memorable scrap and Sharkey, though smaller, was able to present such an argument that many witnesses of the affair still claim that Sharkey should have been awarded the decision.
Little less surprising than Dempsey's weight was the ease with which Joe chip, middleweight, was able to pound Willard's chin. Too much stress must not be laid on this, for Willard was confining his efforts to blocking. But chip was at him with such speed that the champ could not portect himself from the snappy overhand wallows and fast short arm reaches of the smaller man.

Dempsey is faster than Chip, and of course, hits with vastly more power. Jess announced himself years ago as a cool, calm man in the ring, one who is willing to wait many minutes for an antagonist to carry the fight to him. He has even indicated that he will play this kind of a game with Dempsey, although this conversation may be for effect only. But if Chip's appearance yesterday is anything to go by, Jess will have little luck from making such a fight.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, June 18.—Recruiting headquarters were opened today at the chamber of commerce information bureau, on the third floor, for women workers who wish to help in harvesting the fruit crop at Hemet. A large number of workers will be needed by July 1.

VENTURA, June 18.—If the line between school districts cuts a house in two shall the children attend the school of the district in which their bedroom is located, or the district in which their kitchen stands? This is the question to be answered by families living in some newly constructed tenement houses on the Limoniera ranch. The houses are on the line between the Briggs and the Eliseo school districts.

PASADENA, June 18.—Rev. W. G. Knowlton of Salem, Mass., has accepted a call to the pulpit of the first Advent church of this city. He expects to motor across the continent with his family.

SAN DIEGO, June 18.—Officers of the motorship Gryne, arriving here from Guadalupe Island, 175 miles south of this port, brought word that millions of locusts had swarmed on the island and had eaten practically all vegetation there. It is estimated that there are fully 75,000 wild goats on the island, and the ship's officers said that all would starve to death unless steps are taken by the Mexican government to feed them.

POMONA, June 18.—By vigorous action fifty-seven acres of fine wheat in the field were saved from burning on a ranch east of Chino yesterday. The grain was the property of Hugh Glenn, who had leased the land for the year. In some way not disclosed the wheat caught fire and for a time it appeared that the entire field might be lost. However, by the use of telephones a number of neighbors were assembled, each carrying his shovel. The fire was subdued by the time three acres were burned over.

SANTA BARBARA, June 18.—The grasshopper pest which has damaged the grain crop in the Cuyama valley and injured the fruit trees at Paso Robles has now hit the bean fields in the Foxen Canyon district of this county. The ranchers report serious damage in many fields. Bran mash mixed with cheap syrup and poisoned with Paris green is being successfully used against the pest.

FRESNO, June 18.—The California raisin crop for 1919 is estimated at 200,000 tons, the highest in the history of the state by more than 35,000 tons, and the demand is so heavy it is expected the entire crop will be sold before new prices are definitely fixed in the early part of August, it was announced here.

SANTA BARBARA, June 18.—Rangers of the Santa Barbara National For-

WILL ROCAP BE THIRD MAN IN RING ON JULY 4 WHEN DEMPSEY TRIES TO GET WILLARD'S CROWN?

Sporting Editor Named By Biddle But Rickard Won't Agree

TOLEDO, O., June 18.—Who is to referee the Jess Willard-Jack Dempsey championship fight here July 4? That question is bothering a good many right now but least of all the fighters are worrying. Major J. Drexel Biddle has declared that William H. Rocap, sporting editor of the Philadelphia Ledger, is the right man for the job. Rocap has a wide reputation as an authority on the boxing game and also for squareness. Biddle, as president of the army, navy and civilian board of boxing

BROOKLYN TEAM, TROUBLEMAKER FOR LEAGUE

Infield Is Strengthened But Pitchers Start on the Down Grade

BY H. C. HAMILTON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, June 18.—At this stage of the season, judging from past performances of the club, its potentialities as brought out by the abilities, not only of the players themselves, but also of their leader, Wilbert Robinson, the Brooklyn club of the National league looks like a very fine aggregation, likely to make things most interesting for the remainder of the league.

The fact that the New York Giants have been successful in their meetings with the Dodgers proves nothing, except that the Giants play better ball against the Dodgers than against any other club in the league. Chances are the end of the season will find the teams on more even terms, for a team with the power of the Brooklyn is not to be beaten with such regularity as the Giants have been beating them.

Before the start of the season, critics everywhere conceded that the Brooklyn club's pitching staff was the best in the National league, but they wept over the condition of Robbie's infield. Robbie himself had misgivings, but instead of sitting still to weep over it, he went out and dug up what he needed. When Larry Kopf refused to report from Cincinnati he got Lee Magee instead. Then he signed Ed Koncinski, although he has in Ray Schmandt a fine young first baseman, probably a better man than Koncinski.

Since then the Brooklyn infield has been about the best thing the club boasts. Ivan Olson has had his bad days, but that old fox has played good baseball most of the time. His mean temper has been the cause of most of his troubles. He has worked it overtime on ball players, and umpire alike.

The pitching staff started off in wonderful shape, but has cracked a tiny bit since the opening. After a start that made the National league's best pitching staff tremble, they have reached for themselves a downfall. Sherrod Smith pitched a notable opening game and then skidded into defeat. Cadore has not been effective of late, and Burleigh Grimes is effective only on occasions. Al Mamaux is practically useless just now. The catching staff is poor, except when judged as hitters. Ernie Krueger has only a fair arm, is purely a mechanical receiver, and is the worst in the league on high fouls. Miller is better, but much the slower.

Robbie's outfield is fast and brilliant—as good as any in the league figured as a collected unit.

Believing in the Dodgers, the Brooklyn fans have been turning out in generous numbers. On one Sunday they outdrew the Yankees, who were playing in New York. Faith like that in Brooklyn means something—probably that the fans believe Robbie is about to lead them to another world's series.

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero: Dode Paskert. There were two on. The Cubs needed two to tie. Dode smote heavily. Three runs.

Stengel of Pittsburgh, pushed over a homer, chasing two men in ahead of him. The Phillies were blanked six to nothing.

The Sox-Athletics game produced three home runs, one triple, one double and a flock of singles. The Sox pocketed the game 7 to 6.

In each game of the double header, Cleveland won from Boston by a one-run margin.

Pekipnough packed consistently for the Yanks against St. Louis. He knocked out a home run; drove in two runs with a single and scored in the eighth after singling again.

TOMMY O'BRIEN WINS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 18.—Tommy O'Brien of San Francisco won a dashing victory over Young Brown of Los Angeles in their four round main event at Vernon last night.

You can get Purina whole wheat bread at the Dragon. First health flour manufactured since the war.

LEGAL NOTICES

This is the Firestone YEAR

Two Big New Savings for Car Owners and Truck Owners

Never before have Firestone Tires been so decidedly better than others as they now are. So, for months back dealers, car owners and truck operators have been saying: "It's the Firestone Year."

And on top of this quality advantage offered in the improved Gray Sidewall Fabric and Cord Tires, on top of the enlarged size and extra heavy tread, come these two other Firestone savings—

Much lower prices—and adjustments made on a bigger mileage basis.

NOTE THIS NEW SCHEDULE

Fabric Tires	6,000 Miles
Cord Tires	8,000 Miles
Solid Tires	10,000 Miles

You can thank the rubber market for a part of the price saving. You can thank Firestone men—90% of whom are stockholders in the company—for a tire of such quality. 6,000 miles, 8,000 miles, 10,000 miles—these are only beginning points from which you can figure the extra miles that have made this the "Firestone Year" and given greater meaning than ever to the Firestone pledge of—
